CLEVELAND FANS LOYAL TO TEAM

Ovation for Players When They Arrived From New York This Morning

Mayor Issues Proclamation Calling Upon All Residents to Do Honor to Club

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 8.—An ovation greeted the Cleveland Indians when they arrived from New York today despite their two defeats by Brooklyn in the world's series. The teams will open a four game series here tomorrow.

Mayor Issues Proclamation

In a proclamation, Mayor Fitzgerald called upon all Clevelanders to do honor to their team.

"They will win the series if Cleveland backs them as it backed them in the pennant fight," the proclamation read. "I ask that Cleveland show in every way possible its appreciation."

The proclamation suggested that automobile sirens and factory whistles be sounded at noon today, "to urge the team to victory."

That the fans have not lost interest in the series is indicated by the number of applications for tickets to the games, and admittance to the roofs of houses and buildings in the vicinity.

MANY PRELATES ATTEND

Large Assemblage of Eminent Dignitaries at Bishop Beaven's Funeral

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 8.—The funeral of Bishop Thomas D. Beaven, of the Springfield Roman Catholic diocese, which took place at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Michael's cathedral, brought together a large assemblage of eminent dignitaries. Occupying a special throne in the sanctuary of the cathedral was Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, who by virtue of his office presided.

The celebrant of the pontifical high mass was Archbishop John Bonzano of Washington, D. C., the apostolic delegate, who attended as the representative of the pope. Others of the hierarchy who attended were Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes of New York; Bishop John J. Nihlan of Hartford; Bishop Joseph J. Rice of Burlington, Vt.; Bishop Daniel F. Feehan, of Fall River; Bishop E. F. Gibbons of Albany, N. Y., and Conductor Bishop William A. Hickey of Providence, R. I.

Priests representing parishes of this diocese assisted Archbishop Bonzano as officiating of the mass, and the choir was delivered by Rev. Dr. Joseph N. Dinand, assistant provincial of the Society of Jesus for the Maryland New York province and former president of Holy Cross college, of which Bishop Beaven was an alumnus. Several hundred priests of this diocese and from distant parts of the state attended and occupied a special section of the cathedral.

Members of the city government attended and business houses were closed during the hour of the services. The body of the bishop was placed in the mortuary chapel in the cathedral.

VAST AMOUNT OF RED LITERATURE

Two Men Said to Be Most Dangerous Radicals in America Arrested

Pamphlets Advocating Armed Revolution in This Country Seized

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Discovery of vast amounts of radical literature in the possession of Nicolai John Jazdzinski and John Holden, declared to be two of the most dangerous radicals in America, who were arrested here last night by agents of the department of justice was announced today.

In Jazdzinski's possession was found nearly half a ton of Communist articles, including samples of a new pamphlet advocating armed revolution by foreign elements in this country. One hundred thousand of these pamphlets, it was said, were shipped out of Chicago yesterday by Jazdzinski by express, but they were traced and are being held.

The agents said documents were found in Holden's possession which gave evidence that he was associated with a Russian anarchist group in America whose object is the overthrow of the United States government by force of arms.

Holden, it was said, is 31 years of age and unmarried. He has been under surveillance in New York city and Waterbury, Conn., for some time. The authorities said.

POLITICAL GAINS BY NEW CENSUS

West and South Proportionately Gain More Than East or Middle West

May Mean That 50 New Seats Will Be Added to National House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—Examination of the final census figures, which place the population of the continental United States at 105,663,108, indicates that the west and the south proportionately will gain more in a political way than the east or the middle west through increased membership in the house of representatives, in more votes in the electoral college and in larger delegations to the national political conventions.

This result will obtain whatever basis of apportionment is adopted by congress next winter, fixing the size of the next house, which in turn is reflected in the electoral college and in the conventions of the big political parties.

As a result of the increase of 13,710,822 in population during the past ten years, 50 new seats must be added to the house to prevent any state from losing any part of its present representation. Should the present membership of 435 be left unchanged by increasing the basis of apportionment, there will have to be a transfer of 13 seats now held by 13 states to nine other states.

For the past half a century the precedent has been to increase the size of the house so as to prevent loss of existing representation by any state. As a result, the house has grown from 243 to 435 members, with only three states—Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont—losing one member each in the last 50 years.

If this precedent is followed this year, five additional representatives must be given to California, four each to New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan; three to Illinois and Texas; two to Massachusetts, New Jersey and North Carolina, and one each to Alabama, Arizona, Connecticut, Georgia, Maryland, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Virginia, Arkansas and Minnesota.

While the present basis of apportionment is 21,577 inhabitants or its major fraction to the congressional district, congress can increase the basis to 219,427 without causing any loss. To advance beyond the latter figure will mean that Maine would lose one seat, with the net result of 43 new seats in congress.

Congressional leaders are strongly opposed to any large increase in the house.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL MILLS

Underwear Department of Lawrence Mfg. Co. Closed for Indefinite Period

Bay State Cotton Mills Shut Down Till Nov. 1—Other Mills

The cotton mill operatives of Lowell will be given an opportunity to rest during the early part of the week for practically all of the mills close tomorrow noon until Wednesday morning. Some of the plants shut down Wednesday night until next Wednesday morning.

The employees of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., which shut down its underwear department last night for an indefinite period have petitioned the company to make an effort to avert the shutdown even to the extent of revising the present wage schedule if that is necessary.

The Bay State Cotton Corp., employing about 600 hands, shut down last night until Nov. 1. One of the mill officials stated this morning that despite the fact that there are orders on hand, the production is much greater than the sales and in an endeavor to reduce the stock to normal, it was deemed advisable to cut down the production during the month of October.

The various departments of the Silesia mills in North Chelmsford shut down Wednesday evening until Wednesday of the next week, with the exception of the wool sorting department which will reopen Monday morning.

For the past few weeks the Silesia mills have only worked the three first days of the holiday week, but on account of the holiday week this has been changed to Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and the change is for next week only.

The George C. Moore scouring mill, another North Chelmsford plant, will shut down tomorrow noon until Wednesday morning.

STORM WARNING ISSUED

Winds of Gale Force Off North Atlantic Coast Tonight and Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Winds of gale force off the Middle Atlantic coast this afternoon and tonight and off the North Atlantic coast tonight and tomorrow, were forecast today by the weather bureau.

The disturbance which was central over the Bahamas yesterday was reported by the bureau at 10:30 a. m., to have reached latitude 30, longitude 73, or between the North Carolina coast and Bermuda. Indications were that it would move north-eastward, its force increasing as it neared the coast.

Two adjournments over the holiday.

Arguments were made today before Judge Bishop and a jury in the superior court in the case of Joseph H. Gormley against the Boston & Maine railroad. The plaintiff is suing to recover damages for injury to his left hand received, it is alleged, as the result of its being caught in the crack of a closing door of a car belonging to the defendant company. The alleged accident happened last April.

Fred N. Wier, of Trull, Wier & O'Donoghue, made the closing statement for the defense to the jury. John A. Crowley and Edward J. Tierney conducted the case for the plaintiff and the address to the jury was made by Mr. Tierney.

Judge Elias B. Bishop delivered the charge to the jury, and at its close announced that the jury men empaneled for service during the adjournment would be excused until next Wednesday as the Middlesex county superior court, both in Lowell and Cambridge, would adjourn over the holiday.

BIBLE "BEST SELLER" IN U.S. BRITAIN AND JAPAN

TOKIO, Oct. 8.—The Bible is not only the "best seller" in the United States and England, but has now become the "best seller" in Japan, according to the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Locke, Methodist Episcopal bishop of Manila, P. I., who in an address here today before the World's Sunday School congress, declared that seven-tenths of the people of the world now have Bibles in their own language. A century ago, he said, only one-fifth of the people were so provided and now each year nearly 20,000,000 Bibles are published in 200 or more languages and dialects.

Bishop Locke declared "the Bible is the greatest civilizing force in the world's history. It contains a perfect standard of faith, morals and character and presents the only correct solution of the mystery of life. From Caedmon to Kipling," he said, "English literature is permeated by Bible thought and little fiction." Among the famous men and women who avowed faith in the Bible and admired its worth and beauty he mentioned Shakespeare, Bacon, Milton, Carlyle, Macaulay, Coleridge, Tennyson, Byron, Sir Walter Scott, Ruskin, Napoleon, Andrew Jackson, Grant, Lee, General Cronje, De Roqueville, Goethe, Wilberforce, Hugo, Sir Isaac Newton, John Adams, Lincoln and Queen Victoria.

The enemies of the Bible, the bishop said, had "done their worst to destroy it and when they imagined they had overturned it they found the Bible was a cube and is always right side up." He told of the case of a Japanese scholar of great mental vigor, who had been reared as a Confucianist and who commented thus upon a translation of the Bible which had been given him by an American missionary:

"I read page after page until I came to the 13th chapter of St. Paul's First Epistle to the Corinthians, beginning: 'If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels but have not love I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal.' I read the whole chapter. I was fascinated. I had never seen or heard or dreamed of a morality like that. I felt that it was above the reach of the human race, that it must have come from heaven, that the man who wrote that chapter must have received light from God—from God, about whose existence I had been skeptical. And then I read the Gospel of St.

MODEL SUES FOR HALF A MILLION

NEW YORK—Robert Barbour, millinaire manufacturer, invited Miss May B. Rollins, New York model, to his apartment in Paterson, N. J., seized her, plastered her eyes with adhesive tape and kept her with strong following which he refused to marry her, alleges Miss Rollins in a half-million dollar suit for damages filed here. Barbour is said to have fled to Europe in disguise to escape arrest. Miss Rollins asks $250,000 for the alleged breach of promise and an equal amount for the alleged attack. Barbour is six feet tall and weighs 225 pounds.

In her latest production, "A City Sparrow," now showing at the Merrimack Square theatre, Ethel Clayton is seen as vaudeville and cabaret dancer. In the dance scenes she is called upon to execute the Apache dance, which she learned for the occasion. "A City Sparrow" is a picture of the short story of the same name by Kate Jordan. It tells a most realistic and thrilling story of modern life and features an excellent cast. Other features of the current program include a Christie comedy, "Seven Bad Dates," the International News, a Burton Holmes travel picture "With Rogers' funny illustrations. Remember, the motto of the Merrimack Square is "Always a Good Show."

OPERA HOUSE
Of the many good things in "Peggy, Delaney" which is being capably presented this week at the Opera House by the Lowell Players, is the characterization by Miss Triscolla Knowles and Kenneth Fleming. The former as the maid to Peggy, and the latter the butler to her father, are particularly well handled and richly deserving of special mention. The others of the cast are excellent. You'll laugh your full at Peggy's antics and the complications that she brings about through

MRS. ROSE E. TUTTLE, of Portland, Maine, who says she feels like she has taken a new lease on life since taking Tanlac. Her rheumatism and other troubles have been overcome.

"Tanlac is the greatest medicine on earth, and I just wish it was so every woman who suffers like I did could know what it will really do," said Mrs. Rose E. Tuttle, of 233 Congress street, Portland, Maine, recently.

"No one will ever know how I suffered," she said. "My stomach was so disordered I had to be very careful about what I ate. Potatoes and other starchy foods would completely upset me. Frequently after meals I would have terrible pains in my stomach, my breath would get short, and I would have a depressed and uneasy feeling about my heart. Often I was troubled with pains under my shoulder blades and I frequently had bilious attacks."

"I also suffered with rheumatism and this, together with my other troubles, was simply wrecking my health. I felt weak, nervous and rundown all the time, and seemed to be losing weight and strength every day. My sleep was poor, and often I was in such misery I wouldn't close my eyes all night long. Before I finished my first bottle of Tanlac I realized I had at last found the right medicine. My condition improved daily as I continued taking Tanlac. My appetite picked up and I was soon eating three hearty meals every day without suffering in the least afterwards. That horrible indigestion has disappeared, I am no longer nervous, I sleep soundly all night and feel splendidly all during the day. My strength has been increased until I can now do all my housework with ease. I am praising Tanlac every opportunity I have."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Greens drug store, Merrimack square, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative and by the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

I began to use Peterson's Ointment three weeks ago and now it is healed."—A. C. Gilbrath, 793 Reed street, Erie, Pa. "I'd rather get a letter like that, says Peterson of Buffalo, than have John D. Rockefeller give me a thousand dollars. It does me a lot of good to be able to be of use to my fellow man. For years I have been selling the ointment for 25 cents. The healing power in this ointment is marvelous. Eczema goes in a few days. Other heal up like magic; piles that other remedies do not seem to even relieve are speedily conquered. It stops itching in five minutes and for scalds and burns it is simply wonderful. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

"Chief, Fire Department."
Observance of Fire Prevention day, which falls on the 4th anniversary of the burning of Chicago, will be general throughout the United States, according to an announcement by the National Board of Fire Underwriters here, the governors of many states having issued proclamations in accordance with the request of President Wilson.

The New York City fire department, through its bureau of fire prevention, has planned a program which includes the issuance of 300,000 letters to school children and their parents, the display of 40,000 red placards in public places, the circulation of stereoscopic slides in motion picture houses, the imprinting of "riders" on 100,000 restaurant menus and city department letters and the utilization of billboard space.

Special attention is devoted to the school children because of the fact that in the United States there are on an average approximately five school fires every day. More than one-third of the school fires for the three years, 1916, 1917, and 1918, aggregating $12,372,393 were due to "strictly preventable" causes.

To educate the teachers and children in fire prevention a mock trial entitled "The Trial of Fire," will be staged today in hundreds of schoolrooms. The dramatic personae includes, besides the judge and court officials, "the rich criminal carelessness," and the defendants (11 of the minor causes of fire) as follows: Kerosene, cigarette, match, electricity, rubbish, gas, defective chimney, gasoline, lightning, bonfire and spontaneous combustion. Pupils will portray the various characters.

There will be prize essay contests and special observances in schools of many cities. In others the chambers of commerce will conduct ceremonies to call attention to the fire danger.

LECTURE ON SPIRITISM

Speaker Reveals Tricks Represented by Mediums as "Spiritistic Manifestations"

To reveal the tricks which mediums represent as "spiritistic manifestations," Rev. Fr. Charles J. Heredia, S. J., of Holy Cross college, Worcester, gave a public performance before a very large audience last night in Assembly hall. The lecture opened at 8 o'clock and lasted for over two hours during which time Fr. Heredia explained that he has conducted his lectures through what is commonly called a "spiritistic seance." Fr. Heredia is an instructor of Spanish and psychology at Holy Cross college and for many years has given extensive study in spiritism. He was invited to give his lecture in this city by a number of prominent members of the Lowell council, Knights of Columbus.

Rev. Fr. Heredia, of the Knights of Columbus, introduced the speaker, one of whom many might have heard through reports of his lectures in the newspapers in different parts of the country and as one who really needed no introduction.

The speaker then said that he had delivered 37 lectures on spiritism in the last five or six months and that the subject of spiritism had become very prominent within the last three or four years. "But in regard to spiritism," said the speaker, "I understand that those who believe in nothing but believe in anything that you wish to put before them. The practice of 'spiritism' is foolish. Some say that it is natural phenomena, others that it is brought about by collusion with the devil, but in spite of this we see and hear of people every day who go insane from its continual practice. The purpose of my lectures is not to consider spiritism from a religious or moral point of view, but to take it rather on its ridiculous side, leaving the serious work of investigation not to the masses but to honest investigators and common-sense theologians. Some say that we have the authority of scientists to corroborate the genuine character of the spiritistic phenomena. Because Conan Doyle, a novelist, or Sir Oliver Lodge, physicist, or Crookes the chemist, tell us that the phenomena exist and are wrought by the souls of many of us seem to be bound to admit their testimony, but go to Harvard, Yale, Columbia or Stanford and ask real scientists whether they admit spiritism they will laugh at the very question.

"What genuine phenomena exist are not produced at 50 cents, five nights a week in the back streets of our largest cities. Yet this is the brand of spiritism experienced by 95 per cent of its enthusiasts. Realizing this I thought it would be a great lesson to people to see how easily the so-called phenomena of spiritism could be reproduced by a priest who is certainly not in collusion with the devil. Audiences witness the phenomena produced much better than by the ordinary mediums; they cannot detect nor explain the method, and yet they are sure that it is all a deception. I do not perform tricks in my lectures, but reproduce one by one all the psychical phenomena produced by the greatest mediums on earth from the raps of the Fox sisters to the levitation of Daniel Douglas Home. If in so doing I seem to be merely performing tricks that is not my fault, because I am faithfully reproducing what they do.

"Do not forget the power of suggestion. When a faculty is repeated and repeated and repeated as a fact, we begin to believe that it is true. That is what has happened in the case of thousands of so-called spiritistic phenomena. There is always some 'leak' in each of the phenomena. That does not mean that I deny the existence of genuine phenomena; I admit them, because I have seen some of them myself, but I do question the explanation given by the 'Spiritists.' Lightning had been a phenomena from the beginning of the world and yet for sixty centuries civilized and uncivilized nations explained it by the devil, the gods or by some supernatural powers.

"Then came Ben Franklin with his kite and proved it to be electricity. So it has been with spiritistic phenomena, only we are still waiting for an explanation. I certainly deny that spiritism has clearly established its claims as an explanation of psychic phenomena. I do not want to give theories, but on the other hand, when you are sleeping at night and a mosquito comes and lights on your nose, you brush it off or change your position. Are you conscious? No, you are in your sub-conscious mind. All this is a complicated affair and is not a teaching of the church, but simply a likely explanation of the so-called spiritistic phenomena.

"The ouija board tells us nothing only what we know ourselves in our sub-conscious minds. It is the action of the sub-conscious minds on the muscles of the arms and hands that works the ouija board. If you close your eyes for a long time with your fingers extended to any table, you will find that when you open your eyes again that your fingers have moved. The ouija board can answer nothing that is not known in your sub-conscious mind."

During his entire lecture Fr. Heredia performed most of the so-called spirit tricks with the aid of members of the audience. The most interesting was the one in which he had his hands securely tied together and to a chair on which he sat and took off the coat of a man standing beside him with the aid of his "astral" body. The stage of the hall was draped completely in black. On several occasions all lights were put out to assist in the calling of the spirits. When they were dashed on again hats of members of the audience called to the stage would be found scattered about the hall, thrown there as Father Heredia said, "by the spirit in communication with the medium." He read cards, reproduced unknown drawings, real questions on cards in sealed envelopes and did many other tricks including the one in which five men in company with him, lifted a table by placing their fingers upon it. These were all referred to by the lecturer as "spiritistic manifestations" fostered by the idea of spiritism prevalent nowadays but all tricks imposed upon people who are unable to detect the deception.

COLBY SPEAKS FOR DEMOCRATIC TICKET

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—An appeal for dispassionate consideration of issues in the political campaign marked the address here last night of Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, the first speech of Mr. Colby's western trip in support of the democratic ticket.

"Anger, party bigotry, partisan malice and deep and uncontrolled antipathies," Mr. Colby said, did not form a proper background for discussion of "public duty."

The speaker took up the claim "so confidently advanced by the republican party that it is sure of success because of the prevalent desire in the country for a change."

"Even the democrats are apprehensive that there is something in this," he said. "It may be true that many of you want a change. If so, you ought to know why you do and what you hope to get by way of alternative to what you have. I refuse to discuss the question of the hour with you on the theory that you want a change so much that you are indifferent to the question as to whether it will be for the better or for the worse."

treating Mexico, even while it was in throes of dangerous disorders, with respect due from one friendly people to another. What is the result? Mexico is on the high road to tranquil internal conditions and the resumption of peaceful development. Our relations with Mexico happily are un-marred by any act of oppression. Would you change this?" The republican party had "fumbled in sincerity" with the currency problem for years, the speaker said, because of the "desire of republican financial interests that no solution should be agreed upon that in any way lessened the power of those interests over the national finances."

Then the republicans met at Chicago, he continued, "and decided upon a very funny course, after four days of dickering—to make Henry Cabot Lodge and William Johnson lie in the same bed and nobody knows just what they have been trying to do on the league issue since."

Mr. Marshall asserted that the republicans were the first to launch this country upon a course among old world powers.

"William McKinley was the republican president who first started America on a course of responsibility," he said. "It is now a question of whether the republicans are men enough to come forward and shoulder the responsibility."

Like Colored Women Seeking Divorce
"If the democratic party is turned out now," he said, "it is for no more valid reason than the colored woman gave in asking for a divorce—simply want a change of taste."

Mr. Marshall stated that for the past seven years, he had presided over the prize school of oratory in the country, which he sometimes called "all the 'cave of winds.'" In this school, he said, Senator Harding was his best pupil and he had nothing but personal praise for the republican nominee.

1340 YARDS OF SUITINGS, AND I NOT HUNGRY FOR GOODS. 1340 YARDS OF SUITINGS—AND THE BLACKSTONE MFG. CO. HUNGRY FOR MONEY.

I never let a bunch of woollens insult my intelligence. If sellers insist in making me buy at a give-away price, I am in the give-away price tailoring business. I can always sell custom tailored clothes as low as I can buy the goods.

Thousands of Lowellites must need clothing. The extremely high prices the past few years have been too much for many persons who have not got a good break during the war, and the war's padded profits.

This is unquestionably the best purchase I have made in four years, and coming at a time when I am loaded with fall woollens, I do not care to carry this stock in connection with my present one and have decided to use it as an advertisement and place it on sale at a price that is in most cases less than one-half of the original figure. Around a hundred good styles left to choose from.

BLACKSTONE CLOTHING CO. STOCK, $30.00 to $40.00 SUITINGS, MADE TO YOUR MEASURE, ANY STYLE

This is an excellent opportunity for my old customers to take advantage of the values which I consider to be the lowest Suit or-Overcoat offered in New England today.

These garments are made by union tailors, getting the same pay as the tailor who makes your $75.00 suits elsewhere. The selection of cloths are Blues, Greys, Browns, Stripes and Fancy Novelties, made to your measure.

IRELAND WILL GET NO HELP FROM HARDING

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 5.—In one of his speeches today Senator Harding declared his position with regard to Ireland.

He said: "I would no more tell Great Britain what to do with Ireland than I would permit Great Britain to tell us what we should do with the Philippines." Governor Cox has stated that he would at the earliest opportunity bring the Irish question before the League of Nations for settlement. Senator Harding again declared himself against the League of Nations and in reply to a question said American troops have no business in Germany.

Taking up one of the questions about separate peace with Germany, Senator Harding reiterated that he had no idea such a step would be necessary. To another question asking whether he believed the league could call us in war without congressional action, he replied:

"Certainly not. But if we entered the league and assumed the obligations of the covenant of Paris and the council of the league would decide we should contribute our sons to carry on war under the covenant, then congress would be obliged to send them or we would be guilty of the grossest dishonesty."

SEES WAR WITH MEXICO IF U. S. QUITS LEAGUE

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Henry Morganthau, ambassador to Mexico, last night predicted war with Mexico within a year if America does not enter the League of Nations.

He made the prediction in a speech at Symphony Hall before the final session of the International congress of Free Christians and other liberals. "There is an unfortunate misrepresentation of the League of Nations by certain members of both parties," he said. "They tell you that the league means war—means sending our boys across the sea. I want to prophesy to you that not entering the league means war with Mexico within a year, and that means bloodshed."

"I realize that I run the risk of never being confirmed by the senate as ambassador to Mexico, and I don't care whether they confirm me or not." The audience applauded, and Mr. Morganthau concluded: "This is the time to be honest and say what you think."

SAYS TO P. C. OF STOCK ISSUES WORTHLESS

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The annual loss to the American public through the purchase of fraudulent securities was estimated at $500,000,000 by Charles J. Andrews, secretary of the National Association of Securities Commissioners before the special state blue law jags today. Mr. Andrews said that about 10 per cent of the stock offered to the public was worthless.

Enactment of legislation that would prevent the sale or advertising of worthless stock, was advocated by Mr. Andrews. He said that although 35 states have "blue sky laws," some "are so loose that practically everything gets through."

Roy C. Osgood of Chicago, president of the Investment Bankers' Association, told the commission that only 5 per cent of stock issues were bad. He said that investment bankers do not oppose reasonable regulation.

George W. Hodges of New York, former president of the association, expressed the opinion that 50 per cent of the promoters now selling fraudulent or questionable stock could be put out of business in 90 days if existing laws were enforced.

LYNN GOES ON COAL RATIONS

LYNN, Oct. 5.—This city went on a one-ton coal ration today and residents whose bins were empty found it necessary to make application to the health commission before coal dealers would supply them with fuel. The situation resulted from an agreement between Mayor Greiner and local dealers whereby one ton of coal will be allowed to each coal burning unit.

Applications for a second ton will not be honored until the first has been used. Inspectors will investigate each request for a ton of coal and delivery of whatever of hard coal is available will be made only when approved by the health commission.

CHELMSFORD GRANGE

A regular meeting of Chelmsford Grange was held last evening and at the close of the business session a very interesting stereopticon lecture was given by F. E. Cox, a representative of the New England Telephone Co., whose subject was "The Wonders of the Telephone—Past and Present." Mr. Cox, who is the editor of Telephone Topics, gave a very comprehensive talk on the course of the telephone's development from its invention by Dr. Bell to the present day.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Complete control of the housing and maintenance of Lowell's public schools

by the school committee was advocated by Thomas B. Delaney and Gardner W. Pearson, members of the board, at a meeting of the chamber of commerce committee on education and Americanization late yesterday afternoon. The matter was discussed at length and it was finally decided to have Chairman Clarence M. Weed appoint a sub-committee to investigate the feasibility of such a project and to report back to the directors of the chamber.

RELIEF CORPS MEETING

Mrs. Elvira Giles Flinders occupied the chair at the regular meeting of James A. Garfield Relief corps, which was held last evening. Routine business was transacted and it was announced that an outing will be held by the corps at the home of Comrade Leta E. Salmon, Oct. 15.

Beautiful New Church in North Billerica Will Open For First Services on Sunday

NEW ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, NORTH BILLERICA.

The new St. Andrew's church in North Billerica will be opened on Sunday next. The first mass will be celebrated by the pastor, Rev. David J. Murphy, at 8 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass will be sung by Rev. F. E. Rogers of Winchester, assisted by Rev. D. J. Murphy as deacon, and Rev. F. Cunningham as sub-deacon.

The parishioners are looking forward with joyful anticipation to the occupancy of their new church, the dedication of which will be held at a date to be announced later. The building is an ornament to the town and a monument to the untiring efforts of the pastor as well as to the faith and loyalty of the Catholics of Billerica.

The old St. Andrew's church building on Rogers street, North Billerica, was purchased from the Universalist society, Billerica Centre in 1863, and removed to its present location on land obtained through the late Hon. Thomas Talbot.

It was taken in charge by the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, and was called St. Andrew, in honor of the late Father Andrew Garin of Lowell.

through whose efforts a Catholic church was placed there.

Among the early pastors of the church were the late Frs. Lalre, Buckle and Reardon. Many of the parishioners today will also remember with love and reverence the saintly Fr. Gipeault, who was the pastor for thirteen years. Later Oblate fathers who were assigned to the parish at various times were: Frs. Dacey, Mulaney, Emery, McAviney, Paquette, Lavoie, Gagnon, Desrochers, Tigh, Foley and Cornell. Of these Frs. Muloney, Gagnon and Desrochers have passed away.

In November, 1890, the church was completely remodeled, and an extensive addition built under the supervision of the pastor, the late Father Melaney.

For 45 years the church was attended by the Oblate fathers as a mission with no resident pastor.

His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell erected the mission to a separate parish and Rev. David J. Murphy was appointed as its first pastor.

In January, 1914, Father Murphy secured 57,019 feet of land, a triangular lot, situated between Talbot avenue and Colson street as a site for rectory and church. The land was owned by the Talbot Mills company, and the parish is indebted to Mr. Frederick S. Clark, treasurer of the Talbot mills, for his liberal spirit, courteous treatment and generous dealing in the negotiations for the purchase of the site.

In April, 1915, plans were completed for the erection of the new rectory, which was finished and ready for occupancy in December of the same year.

The next step in the fulfillment of Rev. Fr. Murphy's plans was the erection of the present church building. In October, 1915, ground was broken for the new building, and the structure has just been completed.

The first mass will be celebrated next Sunday, October 10, by the pastor at 8 o'clock and at 10 o'clock solemn high mass will be sung by Rev. F. E. Rogers of Winchester, Rev. D. J. Murphy, deacon; Rev. F. Cunningham, sub-deacon.

In June, 1920, Rev. John Cunningham was appointed as an assistant to diocese.

Father Murphy.

Description of Church

The building was designed by O'Connell & Shaw, architects, Boston, and is a modern structure deriving its inspiration from the early Spanish colonial architecture of this country which has proven most adaptable in its simplicity and dignity to the present day ecclesiastical building problem.

The building project is 110 feet long, 50 feet wide, accommodating comfortably on the main floor a congregation of six hundred.

The main entrance is through a colonnade porch, which forms the central motif of the front. Flanking this are two side entrances giving access from the bounding streets which converge directly in front of the main entrance. Additional exits are provided at the chancel and adjoining the sacristies. These latter are placed at opposite sides of the chancel and accommodate the priests and altar boys.

The confessional, which are of the recessed type, are located on either side of the church, close to the sanctuary.

The church interior is entirely free from columns and the roof is supported by open trusses, which are permitted to show, thereby attaining a greater effect of light.

At the entrance and over the vestibule is placed the choir gallery, which is reached directly from the main entrance.

The interior decoration is handled in a complimentary manner depending to a great extent on the stained glass windows for obtaining its richness in color. Nothing has been allowed to interfere with establishing the main altar as the focal point for it is upon this that all interest centres. The altar and the reredos are most unusual in design, the ornament being confined to the infraction of the large panel which forms the field of the reredos.

This serves to throw into high relief the altar immediately in front of it and concentrates the attention upon it.

Within the sanctuary rail and at either side of the chancel arch are the side altars.

A basement auditorium is provided under the entire building, the heating and ventilating apparatus occupying the space under the vestries, and being up to date in every particular. The heating contractor was Joseph F. McManis of Lowell, and sheet metal ventilation work was done by J. H. O'Neill.

The Estey organ, which was purchased under the direction of Mr. Michael Johnson, organist of St. Patrick's church, during the pastorate of Rev. Lawrence Higgins, was removed and reinstalled in the new church by the Estey Co., Boston.

The plans for the laying out of the grounds about the church were drawn, without charge to the parish, by Warren H. Manning of North Billerica, work being done by H. W. Tarbell of Lowell.

The new St. Andrew's church is equal if not superior to any of its size in the diocese.

HOOISIER

— the Kitchen Cabinet that saves miles of steps

Then You Will Realize
That You Must Use a

Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet

WHY should you endure kitchen drudgery when you can end it easily and forever? Why should you work with less efficient equipment than man? Why should you squander woman's charms in needless steps and wasted hours?

There can be no good reason. Science leaves you no excuse. For the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet brings kitchen freedom. It enables you to sit restfully at your work and to accomplish tasks in far less time. Do not confuse it with cupboards sometimes called cabinets. The Hoosier is a scientific labor-saving device—the cabinet a million and a half women use.

Low Prices—Convenient Terms

Price cannot withhold this great convenience—Hoosier's prices are moderate. And you need not have the cash—Hoosier's are sold on convenient terms. Should you, then, deny yourself this work-reducing, needful article of home equipment? Reason says, "No!"

Come at once—today—and select the Hoosier that pleases you most. Join the Hoosier Club by depositing FIVE DOLLARS. Your cabinet will be delivered at once. Then pay the balance in small weekly payments.

We are going to make this a big Hoosier week. And we want every housewife to come and see the Hoosier demonstrated. Don't put off your visit. Come now!

APPEAL TO PRES. WILSON

Messages Seek Relief From Coal Shortage — Strikers
Return at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Telegraphic appeals to the White House from many sections of the country for relief from the coal shortage and for an agreement on methods of preventing serious conditions this winter, have been referred to the Interstate Commerce commission.

Announcement that the commission would deal with the situation was made by Secretary Tamm after he had conferred with Daniel Wilson, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific.

The suggestion that it might be necessary to name a coal controller has not been considered, Mr. Tamm said.

Strikers Return to Work
WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 8.—Anti-trust miners who have been on strike against the Pennsylvania and the Hillside Coal companies, returned to work today. Pampuners went back yesterday to free the mines of water.

A settlement affecting 10,000 was made in New York by officials of the Pullman chamber of commerce and the Erie Railroad Co.

A strike against the contract system was called 11 weeks ago. It was settled but after working less than a week, the men again struck last Monday charging that the mine foremen were violating the agreement.

May Call Convention
SHAMONK, Oct. 8.—Unless President Wilson or Secretary of Labor Wilson offers encouragement to the anthracite miners in their demands for a readjustment of wages and the reinstatement of men alleged to have been discriminated against by the coal companies, the policy committee will meet at Hazleton next Monday to arrange a call for a tri-district convention to be held at Pottsville, on Oct. 26, according to a statement here today by C. J. Golden, president of District No. 9, upon his return from a conference with Secretary Wilson in Canton, Ohio.

PROVIDENCE WINS

FROM SALEM, 7 TO 4

SALEM, Oct. 7.—In a red hot game of action here last night, Providence outplayed Salem and won, 7 to 4. Thompson and Conley were the main supports of the winners and Alexander and Williams played well for the losers. The score:

PROVIDENCE
Alexander, Jr.	1
Williams, Jr.	2
Thompson	1
Conley	1
Summary—Salem: Alexander 1, Williams 2, Thompson 1, Conley 1. Providence: Thompson 1, Williams 2, Alexander 1, Conley 1. Total: Providence 7, Salem 4.

POLO NOTES

Bill Duggan and his New Bedford league leaders will play Lowell at the Crescent rink tonight.

Paul Gardner, who played in the old league years ago and who came back to help Lowell in the present fight, is playing a great game for New Bedford at Hartford.

Duke Dufresne, center for the Whalers, played with Lawrence last year, went to Brockton and then to New Bedford after the down river team quit the league. Duke is a classy player and is taking a prominent part in New Bedford's fight for the flag.

Jette and Wiley, the other New Bedford players, fit in well with the Duggan, Dufresne-Gardner combination.

Lowell defeated New Bedford last Saturday night in a thrilling game at Wadsworth and the visitors will be out for revenge tonight.

THEATRES

BIG CROWD ENJOY

SERIES AT RINK

Plans have been made to accommodate a large crowd at the Crescent rink tomorrow afternoon, when the fourth game of the world series will be reproduced, play by play, by the electric score board.

The team says of today, being on their way to Cleveland, where they will clash in the first game before the Cleveland fans. While the American league rosters were somewhat disappointed over the second defeat administered yesterday, they feel confident that with Cleveland's help tomorrow the Indians will even up the count.

A large turn-out was on hand yesterday to see the third game, and that they enjoyed the remarkable work of the board was evident many times by the cheers and applause. Smith's great pitching and Wheat's hitting, which were responsible for the Brooklyn victory found abundant appreciation from those present.

All games of the series will be reproduced by the score board, and those who enjoy the game and cannot go to the Cleveland or Brooklyn ball parks find this device a worthy substitute.

TEXTILE SCHOOL TO PLAY DARTMOUTH

A squad of 25 men left the Lowell Textile school this noon and set sail for Hanover, N. H., where Textile's football eleven will line up against the Dartmouth freshmen tomorrow afternoon. For the first time in several years Dartmouth is on the Textile schedule and the millmen are going the limit to win tomorrow's game.

Dartmouth had more than 150 men out to make the freshmen eleven this year and in the first game of the season, last Saturday, the college team easily defeated Tilton academy.

The Textile players and a number of other students will remain at the college until Sunday afternoon as the guests of various fraternities there.

PETER MANNING SETS NEW RECORD

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 8.—Peter Manning owned by Irving Gleason of New York, lowered the season's record for four-year-old geldings and trotted the fastest three heats ever covered by a horse of any age class in winning the Transylvania $5000 trotting yesterday afternoon. The miles were made in 2:03, 2:02 1/2, 2:02 1/2.

Peter Manning was purchased by Mr. Gleason here last fall for $21,000 after he had equalled the world record for three-year-old trotting geldings. Harry Stokes of the Murphy stable held the reins when Peter made his remarkable performance yesterday afternoon.

Prince Loree again demonstrated that he is the champion double gaited horse by lowering his racing record to 2:10 in a race against time after the Transylvania had been run.

A crowd as large as that which attended the racing of the future the first two days was out to see the Transylvania contest. The surprise of the event was the performance of the green mare My Choice who forced Peter Manning to record time and covered the mile in 2:03 1/2 in the first heat.

FOOTBALL SUNDAY

Indiana to Meet the Chelsea Eleven on the Fair Grounds—Looks Like Good Game—The Lineup

The Indian football team will play its first game of the season on the old Fair Grounds Sunday when it will tackle the Chelsea eleven, formerly the Millstreams, who have built up a strong reputation in this state for fast playing. The Indians were scheduled to play a game last Sunday afternoon but at the last moment Saturday afternoon it was called off.

The following players will represent the local team: McIntyre lib. Turner fb. Lynch rb. Loucraft qb. Donnellan re. Coughlin rt. Nolan rg. Riley c. Young lg. Locke ft. John Liston le. Spence, Lynn, Morse, Moran, Boland, Evans, Lemoyne as subs.

The acquisition of Lynch to the back field gives the Indians a very formidable scoring combination. Last year at Notre Dame Lynch starred in both open field running and line bucking. He can always count to advance. Turner is fast and also a classy kicker. McIntyre, the other back, while a high class, all-round man, shines particularly in throwing forward passes. Donnellan and Liston on the ends are footed and have a few superior plays in receiving forward passes. Loucraft at quarterback is a very capable and hard working performer. All the other members of the team are noted grid-iron heroes of other years, and the manager looks forward to one of the most successful seasons on record.

Coach Jackson Palmer requests all the above named players to report at the corner of Lombard and Gorham streets at 7:30 tonight for their final practice before the game.

DURHAM, N. H., Oct. 8.—Gordon T. Nightingale, star athlete of New Hampshire college, will soon enter the University of West Virginia. It was announced today. Nightingale won high honors for New Hampshire at the University of Pennsylvania carnival last year.

BALL GAME TOMORROW

Billerica will send a big delegation of fans to see the Knights of Columbus-T.R. & T.'s game at Spalding park tomorrow afternoon. Interest in the game is red hot out there, just as it is in Lowell. These teams played a great game last Saturday, and the Knights, in addition to winning by a score of 2 to 0, topped the gate receipts and a purse of $100 for their trouble. The same size purse is up, and the teams will play for that and the gate receipts again tomorrow. Jordan will pitch for the Billerica boys, and Hollins of Nashua will work for the Knights.

AMERICAN LEGION

Lowell Post to Have Bowling League—Football and Polo Teams—Latter is New Venture

An enthusiastic meeting of the athletic committee of the American Legion, held in Legion headquarters last evening, at which encouragement was given to James Gleason, manager of the football team, it was also voted to form a bowling league. Manager Gleason of the football team has been directing practice each evening on the North common and another session will be held there tonight. All men interested or those desirous of trying out for the team should report for practice this evening. The first game will probably be played with the Clippers of Lawrence.

Arthur Lougier was appointed manager of the Legion polo team, which is now fully equipped and awaiting its first game. The polo team is a new venture, but with the support of its members it is expected to be a success.

Any men entering the city Olympics on the State common Columbus day is required to enter as Legion contestants so that as many points as possible may be totaled for the Legion.

MAN FOR PEACE, WOMAN FOR FIGHT, SAYS LEWIS

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Feminists today were discussing the views of James Hamilton Lewis, democratic candidate for governor of Illinois, on the female of the species.

At a banquet of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association last night, he said: "Man is for peace but woman is for a fight."

"Woman's nature is to demand conflict, if necessary, to establish principles she feels necessary to the government or home."

"In politics men vote for someone or for something. Women vote against someone or something. A woman is more concerned in the defeat or overthrow of what she objects to than as to whom or what shall be put in its place. It is customary to presume women will be for any measure which leads to peace. The fact is that by nature, woman is not for peace. Man is for peace, but woman is for a fight."

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—While there is a wide difference of opinion as to who will win when Young Kloby and Nate Siegal battle for the New England title of welter champion yet all those who have followed the career of both fighters agree that it will be the fastest, roughest and most gruelling fight that New England fans have ever had served to them. It is expected that the fighters will meet and fight without a moment's respite from going to camp.

Kloby by his stubborn hanging on for a half point less when the officials' decision of agreement were signed to the fight has shown that the River fighter was one tough bird. He is congratulating himself for his "kneecaps" in getting George Carter to sign for a Siegal at 143 pounds while the latter is being taught up at home at Kloby for a champion.

It is anticipated that Kloby would demand 112 pounds.

"Tell my pals that I will welch under the stick required and that will be the straw that will break the camel's back," quipped Kloby. "The wireless that Siegal sends from his secret training quarters. With Frankie Mack and Pal Reid Nate is undergoing the most careful preparation of his career."

Kloby is working out with "Smiling Kid" Nolan, a husky heavyweight who claims that Tommy daily makes the mistake of thinking that he has engaged in a real battle. "That man is not tough for me," said Nolan at the finish of his first workout with Kloby and he made Tommy promise not to be so rough.

The high school will have their classes on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 2 o'clock. Athletic teams will be formed from this group and will be permitted to compete in all kinds of good sport. Fellows who are trying out for the high school varsity teams are especially urged to join and take advantage of this opportunity.

One of the most active classes in the "Y" is the employed boys' class. They follow the same exercises as the high school boys and from all indications are a strong team with representative participation in all branches of sport. Because of the great number enrolled in this class it has been necessary to divide the class into two divisions. The advanced employed boys meet on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, while the younger employed boys meet Mondays and Wednesdays.

championship next spring. Mr. Amerius has volunteered to assist coaching the team and everything points to a big year in this line of sport.

It will be interesting to those interested in civil service exams to know that the last year a man took the firearms exam in our city. We have every piece of equipment necessary both for policeman's and fireman's training for these exams and are continually training for these exams.

JACQUELINE GAY

POSED AS MAN;
"MARRIED" GIRL!

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7.—Jacqueline Gay, 21 years old, wore men's clothes for a number of years and then met and "married" Winifred McVaugh, 20, and they kept house together as "man and wife" for four years, according to Jacqueline's story to the police. She claims to be an Oklahoma Indian girl and says she took to masculine attire to avoid the perils of the frontier where she worked at a mission. She became a drug user and the police arrested her as a man when they saw her receive a package of drugs. Her story is said to implicate a wealthy leader of the Italian colony who is said to have forfeited bail when she charged him with selling her drugs.

ROMANCE FOLLOWS
FALL OF EMPEROR

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 7.—A romance of the stay of former Emperor William of Germany in Holland ended today in the marriage of Captain Sigvard von Ilseman, his adjutant, to Countess Elizabeth Bentinck, daughter of William's host at Amersfoort. The former emperor and his wife were present at the official ceremony in the town hall, Augusta Victoria here asked blessings on the newly married couple. At the public church ceremony, which the royal exiles did not attend, Minister Baronesse said: "Through the fall of an emperor, this couple found each other."

The former kaiser gave the bride a Turkish carpet.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION
The Parent-Teacher association of the Bartlett grammar school held its first meeting of the season yesterday afternoon at the school. Mrs. John H. Lambert, president of the organization, was in the chair and opened the meeting with a few words of welcome. Miss Charlotte Starkland, principal of the school, spoke on the advantages of co-operation between teacher and pupil. Later a social hour was enjoyed in the assembly hall where refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Lucien F. L. Turotte and Miss Alice Sunbury. A musical program was carried out with Miss Therese Grondin as the soloist.

of League Park. Unlike Brooklyn, there are no knolls for those unable to get into the park.

Sell Roof Standing Room.
With the high screen along the right field fence, the snug row of houses and stores on Lexington avenue, opposite the park, did not appear to be a favorable vantage point from which to view the games. However, property owners were swamped with offers ranging from $1 to $25 for roof standing room.

An awning company has one of the choicest roofs in the neighborhood. "I haven't had a minute's time for my business," George La Croix, treasurer of the company, said. "Fans have offered me watches, books of trading stamps and almost every sort of thing for a chance to see the game. My partner and myself are taking a tip from Manager Tris Speaker, who won't announce whether we'll sell roof seats until a few minutes before the game is called."

Announce Games From Park

Then there is a two-story frame barn with an imposing roof just back of the bleachers, or east end of the park. Boys have come to love its owner because he lets them climb up there all season to see the games, and this series will be no exception.

Resides those who have offered to pay their way for sky line seats are those who wish to get up there with megaphones so as to announce the game play by play to the crowds in the street.

Clerks of downtown hotels were endeavoring to classify their lists of reservations for tomorrow and Sunday. By using cots all of the hotels are preparing to lodge two to four persons in a room, wherever necessary, but even with these preparations, some of the larger ones are turning away applicants.

Notables to Attend Series

August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Baseball club, has made hotel reservations for a party of 15. Among others who have made reservations are George Stallings, manager of the Boston Braves; Frank Navin, owner of the Detroit Tigers; and William L. Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs.

Mayor Calvin of Cincinnati, Mayor Karb of Columbus, Judge Landis of Chicago, and Mrs. J. R. Speaker, of Hubbard City, Tex., mother of Tris Speaker, are among others who will be here.

Reports that scalpers were selling tickets caused renewed precautions to be taken by the police and officials of the Cleveland Club. One man reported being approached by a youth who offered a set of eight tickets, two for each of the four games for $175. The seats were sold by the club for $26.40. Another man was canvassing hotels with similarly priced tickets which he offered to sell in sets of one for the four games for $100. Through plans made by J. S. Barnard, business manager of the local club there can be no "scalping" of the bleacher tickets. Only one will be sold to each person when the gates open tomorrow morning, and the holder must pass immediately into the grounds.

East Liverpool, Ohio, fans have arranged a banquet for October 20, in honor of Barry (Big) Myers, Brooklyn outfielder, who is a native of that town, when he will be presented with a gift. An invitation will be extended to Tris Speaker to attend.

Of Exeter, Nebraska, Glad to Tell What Sister Mary's Compound Did for Her Baby, Says:

"Our baby, now about 22 months old, and a very frail child, took an awful cold and cough last winter and nothing seemed to help her get rid of it. Seeing your advertisement in the Catholic Tribune we thought we would try Sister Mary's Compound. Before baby had taken two-thirds of a bottle her cough quit and she gained in flesh and color and is now a healthy baby. Thanks to Sister Mary's Compound. Our baby also had stomach and bowel trouble very bad last spring, but since using the Compound she had no trouble at all during the summer and at present is well and lively. There is nothing, in my mind, that can equal Sister Mary's Compound for children suffering stomach and bowel trouble and cough. I don't want to be without a bottle of Sister Mary's Compound in the house. I will be glad to tell others what your medicine has done for our little one."

as won. Manager Robinson would not say who would pitch for the Dodgers tomorrow, but the players think Jeff Pfeffer will be the man.

"We will beat Cavieskie the next time he starts," said Capt. Zack Wheat.

Wheat says Speaker should have been credited with a home run yesterday instead of a two-base hit.

"I never touched that drive of Speaker's on which the official scorer credited the batter with a two-base hit and gave me an error," said Wheat. "The ball took a nasty hop just as I was about to catch it and I never got a hand on it."

Leon Cadore, right hander, who will probably pitch Sunday, said that morales won the pennant for Brooklyn, and that it will win the series.

"We have the will to win, have every confidence in ourselves," he said. "There's a lot of psychology in baseball. The Indians are not going to Cleveland with the same easy confidence in ultimate victory in this series that Robble's men have today."

"Never mind that psychology stuff," said "Rowdy" Elliott, the catcher. "All we have got to do is hit the ball on the nose."

TOTAL POPULATION OF U. S. IS 105,683,108

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The total population of continental United States is 105,683,108, an increase of 13,710,812, or 14.9 per cent.

This figure does not include approximately 12,250,000 people living in the country's outlying possessions. The population of Alaska and the total classed under the military and naval service abroad are yet to be announced.

Director Rogers of the census bureau in making the announcement of the country's population said that while the figures were preliminary and subject to correction, the final official population as transmitted to congress in December, for apportionment purposes, was not likely to be greatly different, although it might be slightly larger through the addition of population for small sections of territory claimed not to have been properly canvassed by the census enumerators in January and which are now being investigated.

"The population of the United States, as announced today," said Mr. Rogers, "is 105,683,108, as compared with a total in 1910 of 91,972,296 and an increase since 1910 of 13,710,812 or 14.9 per cent. as compared with an increase from 1900 to 1910 of 15,977,031 or 21 per cent."

"The largest falling off in the rate of growth for the country as a whole, as shown by these figures is due mainly to an almost complete cessation of immigration for more than five years preceding the taking of the census in January last and in some degrees also to an epidemic of influenza and to the casualties resulting from the world war."

"The excess of immigration over emigration during the decade was approximately 2,532,000. Since the bulk of these foreign born persons came to the country during the first four years of the decade it may be roughly estimated that the increase due to excess of birth over deaths in their families was about 10 per cent."

"The figures of the present census also show that the trend of population from the country to the cities has become greatly accentuated since 1910 and that for the first time in the country's history, more than half the entire population is now living in urban territory as defined by the census bureau."

"With the outlying possessions, the United States in 1910 had a population of 101,115,187. These possessions included Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, the Panama Canal Zone, Guam and Samoa, and the total of persons in the military and naval service abroad was added. This year the population of the Virgin Islands of the United States, acquired from Denmark, is included."

The growth of the country's population, exclusive of the outlying possessions, is set forth briefly in the following table:

Year	Population	Increase	P.C.
1920	105,683,108	13,710,812	14.9
1910	91,972,296	15,977,031	21.0
1900	75,995,265	12,046,861	15.9
1890	62,017,714	12,791,931	20.6
1880	50,155,753	11,597,412	23.1
1870	38,558,371	7,115,050	18.5
1860	23,141,321	8,251,145	35.7
1850	15,191,476	6,122,123	40.3
1840	17,009,453	4,203,433	24.7
1830	12,869,020	3,221,567	25.1
1820	9,158,153	2,358,572	25.8
1810	7,329,581	1,511,593	20.6
1800	5,818,153	1,372,262	23.1
1790	4,445,891	3,029,214	68.2

With the announcement today of the country's total population, the bureau of the census, under Director Sam L. Rogers, has accomplished only a portion of its tremendous task, which will continue to occupy a large force of statisticians and clerks for the better part of a number of years. But the primary object, for which the father of the country provided in the constitution that a counting of the people should be made every 10 years has been achieved. That object was to obtain the total population in order that apportionment of the members of the house of representatives may be made by congress.

That apportionment, as soon as Director Rogers certifies to congress the exact number of people in each state, will be taken up by the house of representatives at its coming session and during the coming year the body will by law fix the number of congressmen from each state. There has been discussion as to whether the membership of the house of representatives, now fixed at 435, should not be reduced, as that number is considered by some parliamentarians as too large and unwieldy a body. People of some states are fearful that their representation in the house might be cut down and oppose any reduction.

In 1790 the number of representatives was fixed at 65, each representing approximately 30,000 people. The number has increased with each decade, based on census returns, until each of the present 435 members of the house represents approximately 241,881. The actual ratio of representatives varies from 50,233 in Nevada to 228,027 in Washington, Nevada, Delaware, Wyoming and Arizona, whose populations were less than the number which would entitle them to one representative by apportionment, were each given one under constitutional provision that each state shall have at least one representative in the house.

Some changes have occurred in the rank of the states and the District of Columbia during the 10 years. Connecticut has outgrown Washington, Utah has gone ahead of New Hampshire, Oregon has passed Maine. The District of Columbia, included in the ranking of the states by the census bureau, has outgrown Vermont.

GEN. FAYOLLE, WAR HERO, VISITS BOSTON

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Gen. Emile Marie Fayolle of the French army, who commanded the first American combat troops in France during the war, was the guest of honor, following his arrival from New York last evening, at a dinner given at the Somerset club by J. C. Joseph Flanagan, French consul at Boston, and attended by State and city officials and military and naval authorities.

To Speak at Harvard Union

With the exception of several calls of courtesy which he will make today on the governor, mayor and commanding general of the 1st army corps area, his only appearance in public will be at the Harvard Union this evening, when he will deliver an address, in French. The greater part of his stay in Boston will be devoted to trips to places of historical interest in this vicinity.

When Gen. Fayolle stepped from the train at the Back Bay station shortly after 6 o'clock he was in civilian clothes, but his stalwart figure and military carriage marked him as a soldier, and a glimpse of his iron gray hair and bristling mustache identified him as the hero of the Somme and of the Aisne. He was accompanied by Lieut. Col. E. Requin and Lieut. De Soubeyan. Mr. Flanagan met the general at the station. They omitted the customary French salutation but, in accordance with the American custom, exchanged a hearty handshake. Then they took a taxi cab to the hotel.

After retiring to his room Gen. Fayolle donned his uniform, the breast of which is covered with medals, including the Legion of Honor and other decorations conferred by the allied governments for distinguished service during the war. He does not speak English, but when a request from the newspaper photographers that he permit them to take his picture was conveyed to him he obligingly consented just before departing for the Somerset club.

THE FARM BUREAU

Series of Meetings Planned Under Direction of the Reorganized Middlesex County Farm Bureau

The American farm bureau federation and its effect on New England agriculture will be presented to farmers of northern Middlesex county in a series of meetings next month under the direction of the reorganized Middlesex county farm bureau. Plans are being made to bring together a large number of representative farmers and give them a first hand opportunity to join in the great farm business organization. From the interest which has been shown already a general response is expected.

Officers of the new organization are well known in this section. Mr. W. H. Wright of Billerica is chairman, a staunch supporter and active worker in the county bureau of agriculture and home economics is president. Mr. Wright was nominated by William J. Bellville of Chelmsford at the recent organization meeting in Waltham. Albert E. Jenks, formerly horticultural adviser of the county bureau and now secretary, and Howard Russell of Weymouth, formerly a prominent market gardener of Weymouth, are the vice president and treasurer.

The reorganized farm bureau will be distinct from the Middlesex county bureau of agriculture and home economics but will work in co-operation with it in assuring a continuance of the service to county agents and home demonstration agents. But the new organization will be so organized that it can be taken an active part in business enterprises of farmers, and will be able to enter fields which the present educational organization cannot go into. Both have distinct places.

The purpose of the coming meetings is to give the farmers of each town in the county first hand information about the plans and policies of the American farm bureau federation and to explain how they will affect New England. The national organization has set a goal of 6,000,000 members and in the first year of its existence has grown to a membership of more than a million, practical farmers and farm women. The only way in which farmers of this section can have a part in this great business organization of farmers is by joining with the new county farm bureau. The Massachusetts farm bureau federation which is a member of the American federation, Middlesex county has the distinction of being the first county in Massachusetts to take up the question of membership in the American federation, but other counties are already making their plans to follow. Some organization of farmers is taking place in reports from Vermont where an active canvass for members has been made in certain counties. The reports show that from 50 to 75 per cent of all the farmers in certain towns and counties have joined with a $10 annual membership. In Massachusetts the annual membership will be $5 and it will include the whole family.

INVITES PRO-LEAGUERS TO JOIN DEMOCRATS

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—George White, chairman of the League of Nations committee, yesterday invited republican men and women who believe in the League of Nations to join with the democratic party and "preserve the only plan ever devised to discourage war."

Mr. White said: "Definitely, utterly, Senator Harding has rejected the League of Nations and the whole idea and aspiration that gave it birth. The republican candidate no longer is attempting to induce two differing interpretations of his position. He has ranked himself with Senators Borah and Johnson and irreconcilables, repudiated his own vote and tried to get his colleagues for reservations and cut the cables utterly between himself and those other distinguished republicans who support the league. His position is not only against the league; it is against a league and we shall have no more quibbling on the subject."

"In the democratic party alone now rests the hope of civilization. The object for which we entered the war and for which our people toiled and died can be attained only through the election of the democratic candidates. It must not happen again what the world said Nov. 11, 1918, when the mistake was signed. The only way to prevent that was and is through the League of Nations and since Senator Harding's speech at Des Moines, the only way to join the league in any form is through the democratic party."

CLAIM ONE MAN CARS VIOLATE LAW

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company yesterday placed one-man cars in operation on all lines of the Quincy and Weymouth divisions. The superintendent of the Quincy division stated that 15 men at Quincy and four at Weymouth would lose their jobs under the new conditions.

The arbitration board of the carmen's union will confer with the company's trustees next week. Union men claim that a Massachusetts law requires that car crews consist of two men and that this law never has been changed. If necessary, they intend to take the matter before the supreme court.

Prior to yesterday one-man cars ran on lines where travel was comparatively light. Cars of the semi-conversible type have been turned into one-man cars by the simple process of eliminating the conductor and shifting the fare box forward beside the motorman.

RODGERS HELD WITHOUT BAIL

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Charles H. Rodgers, 23-year-old colored man, charged by the police of the Dudley street station with the murder of Dorothy Rodgers, 6-year-old white girl, whose mutilated body was found in the rear of 71 East Lenox street several weeks ago, was arraigned in the Roxbury district court yesterday. He was held without bail until Oct. 4.

Miss H. Desmarais Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"My trouble started with pimples and skin irritation. My face and neck were affected and the pimples were hard and red. They itched and burned causing me to scratch, which pained me very much, especially when washing. They also caused disfigurement for the time."

"I used many remedies without any apparent effect until I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I felt relieved after using them for a week, and when I had used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and about half a box of Cuticura Ointment the pimples had disappeared. I was healed." (Signed) Miss Hedwige Desmarais, 324 Park St., Gardner, Mass., Feb. 19, 1920.

65 YEAR FEUD ENDS AFTER 75 MURDERS

ROME, Oct. 7.—Eight Sardinian families which have been principals in a vendetta for 65 years have become reconciled, according to reports to the Borneo & Italia. Since the feud began, there have been 75 murders and much property damage done by members of the families involved.

The Bishop of Tempio, where most of the families reside, officiated at the ceremony of reconciliation, which was conducted in a crowded church 200 yards distant from the feud site. After the bishop had given the men his blessing, the feudists embraced and took the oath of reconciliation. A Te Deum was then sung by the congregation.

RIALTO THEATRE

But two more days remain in which to see Annette Kellerman starring in "What Women Love," showing at the Rialto theatre all this week. The theatre has had a most successful run thus far and it is expected that Friday and Saturday will afford an opportunity to all to see Annette make a last-foot dive from the wardroom of a schooner and win out in a deathly struggle with a man 50 feet under the sea. In addition to "What Women Love," Manager Mack is showing the "Hold-up Man" and "Seven Bad Pates," a flourishing comedy with Bobby Veron. The Litterate Digest with Will Rogers, the Fox News and the 12th episode of the "Hawk's Trail," complete the bill.

ADOPT RESOLUTION FOR IRISH FREEDOM

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 5.—A self-determination resolution for Ireland, amending the introduced resolution to apply to all small nations, one for the 45-hour week in textile industry with the eight-hour day, and another empowering the expenditure of $1000 to $5000 to further the co-operative movement in the United States were adopted among the 33 resolutions presented at the fourth day session of the 20th annual convention of the United Textile Workers of America.

The resolution for Irish Freedom reads as follows:

"Resolved: That the United Textile Workers of America in the 20th annual convention, assembled, endorse the action of the American Federation of Labor, and demand that the military forces of occupation in Ireland be withdrawn from that country, and that the Irish people be allowed to guide their own destinies as proclaimed by President Wilson in the manifesto issued by the president of the United States, the same as all other nations recently given their freedom, comprising his 14 points, and agreed to by the British government and its allies in the recent world war."

The business as set for this afternoon comprises the election of officers, naming of the members of the executive council, and the choosing of delegates to the American Federation of Labor. The convention will also decide where the next convention will be held.

HARVEST SUPPER

The harvest supper given Wednesday night by the Church Aid society of North Chelmsford was a success in every way. The attendance was large, the food was very appetizing, the music was plenty of it. The decorations were splendid, while the entertainment was the best ever. Those who took part in the musical and literary numbers were Elizabeth Shepherd, Bessie Porter, Mrs. Samuel Kershaw and Albert Guerin. The accompanist was Mrs. Charles Scribner. The committee responsible for the success of the affair was as follows: Mrs. Kibber, chairman; Mrs. Lizzie Hopper, Mrs. George Swettell, Mrs. Samuel Kershaw, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Sidney Yomans and Mrs. Frank Hollisworth. The various tables were attended to by a number of young women members of the church aid.

5 KILLED, 3 MISSING

Tank Exploded on British Steamer—Blast Believed Due to Accident

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Five men were killed, three others are missing and are believed to have lost their lives and more than a score injured yesterday afternoon in an explosion which wrecked a forward compartment of the British tanker H. R. Crow of Toronto, undergoing repairs at a Brooklyn shipyard.

The blast, which endangered the lives of more than 200 workmen employed on the ship's deck, is believed to have been caused when gases from an empty oil tank were ignited by a blow torch. The destruction, representatives of the shipyard's office and agents of the department of justice, however, began an immediate investigation.

Several workmen were trapped in the hold of the vessel, while scores of others were swept from the decks by the explosion. One man was thrown more than a hundred feet in the air, crashing to death through the iron roof of a nearby machine shop.

Two of the dead were burned beyond recognition.

Phenomenal gas masks dashed into the smoke-filled hatches and tied ropes around the wounded, who were pulled up to safety. Two of the injured had been wedged between two tanks, stunned by the concussion. Another, felled within a forward part of the ship, was dragged out of a port-hole.

All of the oil compartments were empty, the ship having discharged a Mexican crude oil cargo last week at Warner's Point. Then the tanks were steamed—a customary precautionary measure—and the vessel warped up to the repair dock. All of the blow torches were in use on the deck, the first officer, E. Murphy, said. He did not know of any being used to burn through the steel top of an oil compartment.

15 PER CENT CUT IN WAGES

The reduction goes into effect at once.

Danger of G. O. P. Victory lies on the high court were in prospect. Referring to the senate's control over confirmations and to Senator Harding as the "reactionary" candidate, he added:

"Ideally, it would naturally follow that a reactionary president would appoint four reactionary members of the supreme court."

The governor declared this was one of the reasons why "the senatorial oligarchy" should be defeated.

"There are several reasons why the senate oligarchy should not be permitted to win this election," he said. "Throughout the years the senate has repressed on the authority of the house of representatives."

The constitution provides that all legislation providing for the raising of revenues shall be initiated in the house. Yet there has probably not been a tariff measure in the last 50 years which was not changed in its every line after the enacting clause once it reached the senate. By the nomination of one of its own members as the reactionary candidate for the presidency, it now has the opportunity of annexing the executive department.

If the senatorial ring should win the election, it would, in addition to controlling the president, also possess the right of nomination of members of the supreme court appointed by the president. Four members of the court being now eligible for retirement, there will be four vacancies in the next four years.

"It will be seen at a glance that the senatorial oligarchy is playing for big stakes, which are no more nor less than absolute control of the three departments of our government. No president of the United States will appoint anyone that he deems unworthy of a place on the highest court in the land; but we must be reminded that the senatorial nominee for the presidency has affirmed his faith many times in the theory of plural government which means that he will not only confer with the group around him but that this same group has the constitutional right to apply its check if the president should show any signs of independence. Besides, it would naturally follow that a reactionary president would appoint four reactionary members of the supreme court. This would find the country in reaction for the better part of a generation. It is a simple matter for the executive and legislative branches of the government, but not in the judicial. As I see it, this is the real danger of the reactionary victory, next to the scuttling of the League of Nations."

SEN. HARDING SPEAKS

IN MISSOURI TODAY

ON BOARD SENATOR HARDING'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Oct. 8.—Bearing the standard of republicanism again along the political borderland, Senator Harding headed into Missouri today to preach his gospel of representative party government and a foreign policy free from embarrassing entanglements.

An afternoon meeting at St. Joseph and a night address in the Kansas City convention hall were the high spots of the day's program.

The nominee's voice showed today the strain of yesterday's vigorous campaigning, when he made 11 speeches in Iowa and Nebraska, but aside from heartiness, he seemed in fine trim, and declared he was ready to meet as many audiences as could be reached by a fast train schedule.

MacSWINEY MORE REFRESHED TODAY

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork was more refreshed today at Brixton prison, having passed a fairly good night, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination league. He suffers great distress after saying even a single word, the bulletin declares. It tries to whisper something, again, becomes very exhausted and is unable to continue.

The league bulletin issued at 12.30 p. m., said the mayor was suffering from trouble with his heart and was unable to converse with his relatives.

Ipswich Hosiery

With the exception of the finishing departments, all departments of the Ipswich hosiery in Warner street closed Wednesday night and Oct. 25. The finishing department will also cease operations as soon as present orders are finished and that will be in a few days.

Lawrence Mfg. Co.

The Lawrence Mfg. Co. shut down its underwear departments for an indefinite period, while the hosiery part of the plant was closed last night until Wednesday morning. It is not expected that the hosiery departments of the plant will be kept in operation more than one week.

Yesterday afternoon, according to Agent Everett Walker of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., several hundred employees of the company called at the office and requested that an effort be made to prevent the indefinite shut-down, stating that if necessary a new scale of wages be put into effect. They requested by all means to keep the plant in operation. The employees made an oral plea for the reopening of the plant and also presented a petition signed by several hundred employees.

To a Sun reporter this morning Mr. Walker stated that he is unable at present to state how soon operations will be resumed at the mill. He said it will all depend on market conditions. "It would be my greatest pleasure," he continued, "to resume operations next week and keep every department running full blast, but under present conditions we cannot do that. I estimate that about 25 per cent. of the help of the plant have been over to see me in an endeavor to have the mill reopened, and they went as far as to tell me if it was a matter of not being able to compete with other concerns because of high wages, to rearrange the scale of wages to suit the company. I feel honored to have my employees place their confidence in me to such a great extent and in return I may say that the employees of the Lawrence Mfg. Co. are as fine a lot of help as can be found anywhere. At present, however, I am unable to offer anything of a tangible nature, but I may say that their plea will be given the most earnest consideration."

FREQUENT EARTHQUAKES PUZZLE SCIENTISTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Frequent earthquakes in North and South America and Europe during the last few months have puzzled government scientists. They regard the disturbance as a geological anomaly for they say that the greatest seismic disturbance is known definitely to be in February, March and April. Their opinion coincides with that of Father Tondorf, director of the Georgetown University Seismic Observatory.

of it for anyone to attempt an explanation of the cause of the anomaly. Geologists recognize that the earth's surface is in a state of continual unrest, and they explain that whenever the accumulated force pushes the "breaking point" earthquakes follow. The disturbances which recently have occurred in three continents are regarded by scientists as movements of the earth's crust and yet they say that some of the shocks may have extended to a depth of 269 miles. Fault lines or weak places in the earth are well known to the geologists, according to G. P. Merrill, curator of the National Museum, who explains that because of this knowledge a general prediction regarding the area of a disturbance can be made by the scientists. But, as he adds, "no sane man" would attempt to say exactly where or when, for a fault may extend for several hundred miles. Scientists are not, however, experimenting on us food for extinction.

CONVENED IN JERUSALEM First Jewish Constituent Assembly of Palestine Now in Session in New York NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The first Jewish constituent assembly of Palestine convened in Jerusalem yesterday, according to advices received at the headquarters here of the Zionist organization of America. Although the labor element in the assembly has a majority, no ultra-radical legislation is expected, the advices stated, the national radical party being moderate and the "capitalist" group favoring moderate social innovations. Women delegates took their seats notwithstanding Orthodox protests, the advices added. The assembly has the sanction of Sir Herbert Samuel, British high commissioner to Palestine. In the elections held last April, not only did many women vote but several were elected as delegates, including two from Jewish, Polish, and Jewish agricultural settlements in Palestine. The national radical party, according to the Zionist organization, favors development of co-operative societies as well as encouragement of private initiative. The "B'nai B'rith" group, favors profit sharing and other modern social innovations. All parties recognize the sovereignty of the Zionist organization, it is said, some even proposing that it shall have veto power over all legislation adopted by the assembly.

ORDERS R. R. TO FILE PLAN OF DISSOLUTION

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The federal court here today handed a decree ordering the Reading Co. to file within 90 days a plan of dissolution of the combination of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Co., the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co., the Central railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., in accordance with the decision of the United States supreme court rendered last spring.

The court granted the Reading Co. the right to secure proxies from stockholders for the purpose of voting them on Oct. 11, in the election of new directors for the various companies. Under the decision handed down last spring, the Reading Co. was restrained from exercising such rights.

There have been many rumors as to what form the plan for separating the several companies into independent entities will take, but nothing official has come from the Reading Co.

Reports of union-cutting among Reading stockholders when dissolution takes place were neither confirmed nor denied.

BIDS FOR ONLY 4 WOODEN STEAMERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Bids for only four of the 295 wooden steamers offered for sale by the shipping board, had been received when the tenders were opened today. The total amount offered was $110,599, or considerably less than the cost to the government of the construction of any one of the boats.

The offers were taken under consideration.

This is the third attempt by the board in recent months to dispose of its fleet of wooden vessels. There were no responses to the two previous calls for bids.

CUT TO BE USED ON ENVELOPES

The committee on community advertising of the chamber of commerce has accepted the cut designed by Walter A. Flynn of the art department of the U. H. Colburn Co. to be used on all its stationery from now on. Mr. Flynn submitted his design in competition with several others and the committee has adjudged his most useful.

The chamber is also making an attempt to have all its members use the cut on their envelopes as it is believed that it will be good advertising for the city.

Mr. Flynn has also recently completed a very artistic design for the cover of a pamphlet published by the U. H. Colburn Co., giving the commercial history of shoe and a minute description of its production.

In the opinion of expert authorities, Canada would increase its production of zinc to supply one-tenth of the world's demand.

From Japan a forage plant, called kumak, is being imported to feed American stock.

TO FORCE COLBY TO ACT

Attorney Seeks to Compel
Promulgation of Joint
Peace Resolution

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Harry S. McCartney, a Chicago attorney, carried to the supreme court today his efforts to compel Secretary Colby to promulgate the joint peace resolution passed by congress last May and vetoed by the president.

Declaring that "great public interests required the early and possible consideration of the question involved," Mr. McCartney filed a petition for a writ of certiorari, asking that the case be taken from the District of Columbia court of appeals, where it is pending.

The case reached the court of appeals from the district supreme court which last July dismissed McCartney's petition for mandamus to compel Secretary Colby to promulgate the resolution.

TEACHERS TO CENSOR DRESS OF PUPILS

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 8.—The school board here today considered the rules which will permit principals and teachers to censor the dress and decorum of pupils attending social functions held in the school buildings.

This will prevent the use of rouge and the wearing of short skirts and low necks when these are beyond the limit of modesty in the opinion of teachers.

The matter has been brought before the club women of the city and they are practically unanimous in their approval of the rule.

NO POWERS TO SEIZE AUTOS

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 8.—Suspension that an automobile or other vehicle may contain contraband liquor or other commodities does not give customs officers authority to confiscate, according to a decision by Federal Judge Clarence Hale today. He ordered that an automobile, seized by Customs Officer Mahlon A. Whittemore, be returned to its owner, Andrew G. Lipsett of Bangor.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Percy McMaster and Miss Harriet Smethurst were married Oct. 6 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Smethurst, 41 D street, by Rev. Arthur B. Wells of the Highland Congregational church. The bride's maid was Miss Jane B. Smethurst while the best man was Mr. Roy B. Kingston of Woonsocket. U. L. Miss Madeline M. McIntire acted as flower girl.

TRAFFIC OFFICERS

The inauguration of the new system whereby traffic officers of the local department are required to work each Sunday, thus giving them one day off in eight instead of one day off in seven as previously, is creating considerable adverse comment among the officers affected. It is their opinion that they have to work much harder than the regular patrolmen and that they have to stand at their posts in duty in all kinds of weather. On this alone, they claim their right to have one day off in seven. A number of the officers look at the situation in a different light, however, saying that when the local traffic squad was first organized, the members had to work each Sunday.

WANT TO BE CHAUFFEURS

Inspector Hardy of the state department of public affairs, division of automobile registration, examined 19 men applicants for chauffeurs' licenses at the Community club in Dutton street this morning. Twenty more applicants were examined this afternoon, making a total of 39. Twenty-three had signed up for examination this morning, but four failed to appear.

WEEK-END TRIPS TO
NASHUA DISCONTINUED

The Eastern Massachusetts street railway will discontinue for the season its Saturday and Sunday trips to Nashua. The week-end schedule has been maintained to the river city throughout the summer, but officials of the company have taken a passenger count and the riding has been so light as to cause the discontinuance of service. Cars to Gregoire's corner will, however, run as usual on an hourly schedule.

O'NEILL AND WHEAT
LEADING BATTERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The team batting average of the heavy hitting Cleveland club for the three games of the World's Series divided yesterday to 16.5 when the Indians could do no better with Smith's puzzling curves.

Brooklyn had been going at a rate of slightly under 2.0 for the first two games, and improved this yesterday to 2.9.

O'Neill of the Indians stands out as the series star thus far with five hits in 10 times at bat, including two doubles. He is followed closely by Wheat of Brooklyn, who batted out three singles and two doubles in 11 times up. The Brooklyn outfield has outbatted the Cleveland outfield, 11 hits to five.

YALE PRESIDENTS PLAY TOMORROW

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 8.—Yale's freshman football squad will play its first game this season against Haverford at Lakeville tomorrow. Other scheduled dates are: Oct. 16, Exeter in New Haven; 23, at Andover; 30, at Princeton; Nov. 6, Dean at New Haven; 13, Harvard at Cambridge.

GIRLS' GYMNASIUM CLASS

The first session of the gymnastics class of the girls' community service club was held yesterday afternoon in the club rooms in the houses building with 60 girls, pupils of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades, registered. With this initial session the directors of the club and Miss Bivitt Lawler will have charge of the instruction are certain that their idea will meet with success. Two classes were formed yesterday, one for seniors, including pupils of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades to meet Monday afternoons at 4.35 o'clock and the other for Juniors, comprised of pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, to meet on Thursday afternoons at the same time. The first sessions of the class at which instruction will be given will start next week.

THREE YUKON RIVER
BOATS FROZEN IN

JUNEAU, Oct. 8.—Three Yukon river boats, the last of the season, from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Dawson, Y. T., carrying capacity lists of passengers and mail are frozen in below Eagle, Alaska, according to advices received here today. The passenger steamer Seattle II is frozen in at Komatuk and the steamers Kestral and Washburn somewhere between Eagle and Circle. Ice conditions are said to be worse than last year.

GOV. COOLIDGE
AT BROCKTON FAIR

BROCKTON, Oct. 8.—Governor Coolidge was the guest of the Brockton Agricultural society at its annual fair today. Accompanied by state officers, foreign consuls, officers of the national guard, regular army and navy and political leaders he arrived from Boston by special train this forenoon and was escorted to the Commercial club, where luncheon was served. The program at the fair grounds this afternoon included a parade of the military and a review by the governor.

Governor Coolidge will return to Boston late today.

To stop street cars at railroad crossings or drawbridges should a motorist ignore a signal, an inventor has designed a spring bumper to be raised level with their front ends.

NO INCREASE IN SUNDAY POST PRICES

The three other Boston Sunday newspapers, the Sunday Globe, the Sunday Herald and the Sunday Advertiser, all publicly announce that their retail price will be advanced everywhere in city and country to ten (10) cents per copy, beginning next Sunday, Oct. 10, 1920.

The Boston Post has no disposition to criticize its esteemed contemporaries for taking this step. But, for itself, it does not feel justified in taking such action at the present time. There will be no change in the retail price of the Boston Sunday Post, which remains at six (6) cents per copy in Boston and vicinity and seven (7) cents per copy in the country.

It is true that there have been very large increases in the cost of producing newspapers. Prices of newspapers have already been advanced considerably to meet these conditions. The Post management does not deem a further advance necessary at the present time.

The Post does not like to contribute to increasing the High Cost of Living to its multitude of readers. It believes that at present the tendency is in the other direction. The recent big reduction in the price of various motor cars, silks, wheat, cottons, woolens, sugar and many other commodities indicates the trend of the times. It is very important for the welfare of people generally to get back to a more moderate basis of prices. If necessary, the Post is prepared to operate at a loss for a while rather than to increase the burdens on the public.

From a circulation point of view a ten-cent price for a Sunday newspaper naturally and almost invariably involves loss of readers. This means that the newspaper's influence is restricted, and that there is a decreased response to advertising in its columns. It is distinctly to the disadvantage of the advertisers to have Sunday newspapers advanced to ten cents per copy. It would be much more to their advantage to pay a little more, if necessary, for increased circulation and increased productiveness of their announcements.

The Boston Sunday Post has always allowed a liberal margin of profit to the newsdealers and newsboys, who distribute it to the public. Beginning next Sunday, Oct. 10, it will somewhat increase this margin, and at the same time it will allow a maximum of five per cent returns of unsold copies, thus dividing in an equitable manner the inevitable loss in the fluctuation of newspaper sales, due to news and weather conditions. The Post appreciates the difficulties which newsdealers and newsboys, as everybody else in business, have had to meet of late. It will treat them as liberally as possible and in return asks that they maintain in good faith the established price of the Sunday Post. Their increase of sales will afford them more profit than if they should try to secure an undue profit on the sale of fewer copies.

The Post urges its readers not to pay over the established prices of the Daily and Sunday Posts—i. e., two cents per copy for the daily edition and six cents per copy for the Sunday edition in Boston and vicinity and seven cents per copy for the Sunday edition in the country—unless in exceptional cases the delivery is unusually difficult and expensive. In cases of unjustifiable overcharges Post readers are requested to notify Mr. E. J. Maguire, Circulation Manager of the Post, who will endeavor to rectify the matter.

THE BOSTON POST.

REMEMBER

No Increase in the Prices of the Boston Sunday Post

They remain at six (6) cents in Boston and vicinity and seven (7) cents in the country.

This Offer Positively Ends Oct. 10

The reason why many people suffering from catarrhal troubles are not cured is because they cannot afford to receive proper treatment on account of the high prices charged by most specialists.

The offer of the nominal fee rate of 8 visits for $3 is given at this time by Dr. Powell so that all sufferers from catarrhal diseases may afford to receive treatment as often as it is needed.

I take this opportunity of notifying all those who require treatment for catarrhal troubles that until October 10 my fee for treatment will be a charge of $3.00 for night office treatment. In order to take advantage of this low offer it will be necessary to visit my office and submit your name on or before Oct. 10. After that date when your treatment is on or before that date you will receive treatment as long as they require it without any increase in this rate.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Defendant Fined $100 for Illegal Sale of Liquor—
Other Cases

Police court clerks were very quiet this morning, the main case in the regular session being one of illegal sale of liquor for which the defendant was fined $100. Juvenile cases called before Judge Enright in the court of second sessions, included a charge of assault upon and robbery from Willis Bean against John L. Maroney, Martha Quayle and Norman Welch. The court found probable cause to find them guilty and ordered the three to recognize in the sum of $1000 for trial before superior court. Three other juveniles were found guilty of unlawfully riding upon a freight car and ordered to pay fines of $20 each.

Liquor Cases
George J. Kearns, proprietor of a near-by establishment on Adams st., appeared the other day to pay a fine of $100 for illegal sale of intoxicating liquor on Sept. 18, and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $300.

Officers William Conway, P. B. Clark and Michael Winn appeared in the case. Officer Conway testified that on the evening of September 15 about 3:30 o'clock he entered Kearns' store and purchased a drink of "stout" from the clerk, and that when the proprietor came to the bar later he purchased a second bottle of "stout" from him. He said he then asked the clerk for whiskey. The clerk took a pint from his hip pocket and sold it to him for $4. The clerk was then arrested and was fined for illegal sale in police court on last Tuesday. Since that time the police summoned Kearns, the proprietor, for illegal sale in connection with the same purchase of a pint by Officer Conway. The allegation of the officers is that when the clerk received a five dollar bill for the pint of whiskey, he turned it over to Kearns, who put it in his pocket and returned $1 in change. Kearns denied that he made change, or that he sold "stout" to Officer Conway.

James Kovrakos pleaded guilty to illegal sale of liquor and was fined $3. This case was called on an old complaint made last July, but which was dismissed by the local court because of the fact that at that time it was not certain that state officers could prosecute. Since the announcement by Judge Enright that he would "clean up" all liquor violators, the complaint was re-issued by Superintendent Welch.

Charles Sharkey found guilty of drunkenness and also of creating a disturbance in a downtown dance hall, was fined $6.

Louis Burke and Joseph Myers charged with unlawfully playing dice on the state highway in Tyngsboro were each fined $5. Constable Holt of that town was the prosecuting officer. George Ahlman, called on an old complaint charging violation of the automobile laws, was fined $25.

house as they regard the present membership of 435 as unwieldy. When the census committee, headed by Representative Steagall of New York, begins consideration of the problem, effort will be made to hold down the increase but pressure for the increase is expected to come from the states which would benefit from a larger house.

Only once in 1840—has the size of the house been reduced. One other time, just before the Civil war, the apportionment was held down, with the resulting loss of seats falling most heavily on the southern states. By holding the house membership to 435 gains would be distributed with

Ovation for Players When They Arrived From New York This Morning

Mayor Issues Proclamation Calling Upon All Residents to Do Honor to Club

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 8.—An ovation greeted the Cleveland Indians when they arrived from New York today, despite their two defeats by Brooklyn in the world's series. The teams will open a four game series here tomorrow.

Mayor Issues Proclamation
In a proclamation, Mayor Fitzgerald called upon all Clevelanders to do honor to their team.

"They will win the series if Cleveland backs them as it backed them in the pennant fight," the proclamation reads. "I ask that Cleveland show in every way possible its appreciation."

The proclamation suggested that automobile sirens and factory whistles be sounded at noon today, "to urge the team to victory."

That the fans have not lost interest in the series is indicated by the number of applications for tickets to the games, and attendance to the roofs of houses and buildings in the vicinity.

MANY PRELATES ATTEND

Large Assemblage of Eminent Dignitaries at Bishop Beaven's Funeral

SPRINGFIELD, Oct. 8.—The funeral of Bishop Thomas D. Beaven, of the Springfield Roman Catholic diocese, which took place at 10 o'clock this morning in St. Michael's cathedral, brought together a large assemblage of eminent dignitaries. Occupying a special throne in the sanctuary of the cathedral, was Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, who by virtue of his office presided.

The celebrant of the pontifical high mass was Archbishop John Bonzano of Washington, D. C., the apostolic delegate, who attended as the representative of the pope. Others of the hierarchy who attended were Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes of New York; Bishop John J. Nihan of Hartford; Bishop Joseph J. Rice of Burlington, Vt.; Bishop Daniel F. Feehan, of Fall River; Bishop E. F. Gibbons, of Albany, N. Y., and Coadjutor Bishop William A. Hickey of Providence, R. I.

Priests representing parishes of the diocese assisted Archbishop Bonzano as officers of the mass, and the eulogy was delivered by Rev. Dr. Joseph N. Dinand, assistant provincial of the Society of Jesus for the Maryland-New York province and former president of Holy Cross college, of which Bishop Beaven was an alumnus. Several hundred priests of this diocese and from distant parts of the state attended and occupied a special section of the cathedral.

Members of the city government attended, and business sessions were closed during the hour of the service.

The body of the bishop was placed in the mortuary chapel in the cathedral.

PONZI PLEADS NOT GUILTY

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Charles Ponzi today pleaded not guilty to two indictments returned by the federal grand jury, in which he was charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

There were 43 counts in each indictment, the allegation in one group being that he had promised to pay 50 per cent interest within he was unable to do so, and in the other that he represented falsely that he was dealing in international postal coupons.

His counsel made no argument today at the conclusion of hearings before a referee in bankruptcy on the question whether Ponzi was solvent, whether he had made any preferred payments, and whether he had any partners.

EXPULSION OF JEWS IN HUNGARY

VIENNA, Oct. 7 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency).—The Hungarian minister of the interior has ordered the immediate expulsion from Hungary of all Jews who have arrived in that country since 1914, according to a Budapest dispatch today.

Reports from the Hungarian capital state that during the last Jewish holidays, soldiers entered a number of synagogues and ill-treated the worshippers. A number of Jews were also beaten in the streets, the reports say.

MEMORIAL FOR OUR WAR HEROES

Pres. Wilson Names Sunday, Nov. 14th as Armistice Day

Directs That American Flag Be Displayed at Half Staff on That Day

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—President Wilson today directed that on Sunday, Nov. 14, the American flag be displayed at half-staff on all public buildings and naval and military posts "as a token of the nation's participation in the memorial services held for the heroic American soldiers, sailors, marines and others who gave their lives to their country in the world war."

In connection with the order, the president authorized this statement: "There has been transmitted to me a suggestion that I name Sunday, Nov. 14th, as Armistice Sunday in order that the religious services held throughout the country on that day, may be given an especial note of remembrance for the heroic services and sacrifices of those who died for America in the world war."

"The selection of a formal day which shall be annually set aside to commemorate our participation in the world war will some day doubtless be effected through legislation and already Memorial day, rich in heroic memories, has acquired additional significance as being appropriate also to the commemoration of the heroes of the world war."

"I am, however, so heartily in favor of the suggestion that has been made that I take this occasion to express publicly my approval of the idea."

"Nov. 11, 1918, will always be memorable as the beginning of the end of the most terrible and destructive of all wars. Our beloved country took a noble part in hastening the arrival of the day hailed by the whole world as the dawn of peace; but close upon the day of victory followed realization of loss, and the anniversary will bring with it solemn thoughts to the minds of every American, memories of brave men who fell, sympathy for their living relatives and those religious reflections in which nations, like individuals, must seek hope and consolation."

"Nov. 11, this year, being the Sunday immediately following the anniversary, should be observed in all our churches by suitable memorial services for the American soldiers, sailors and marines who gave their lives to their country in the world war scenes to me eminently fitting and proper, and I commend the suggestion to those who conduct such services."

"I shall direct that the flag of the United States at all military posts, naval stations, on vessels and on buildings of the United States be displayed at half mast on that day, as a token of the nation's participation in the exercises elsewhere held."

COLUMBUS DAY PROGRAM

High School Students Hold Appropriate Exercises at Keith's Theatre

Students of the Lowell high school observed Columbus day at Keith's theatre this noon with a most appropriate and excellent program of exercises. The speaker of the occasion was Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, who drew a parallel between the voyage of Columbus and the onward march of this republic, pointing out that the same qualities of faith, perseverance and intelligence that were necessary in the case of the great voyager are also essential in the progress of the United States.

The students and faculty assembled at the theatre at 11.15. The program opened with a march by the school orchestra under the direction of Fred O. Hitt. This was followed by the Boys' Glee club in "Crossing the Bar" and "Fishing," both of which were well given.

"Columbus in History, Poetry and Art," as arranged by A. Ryan, was a series of declamations on the life and work of Columbus given by Donald Adams, 21; William McCarthy, 21; Castle McSally, 21; Arthur Riley, 21; Irene Desmarais, 21; Hannah Adams, 21; William McCarthy, 21; and Sotirios Sampanikos, 21. The declamations were most enjoyable and were given in a manner that reflected credit.

POLITICAL GAINS BY NEW CENSUS

West and South Proportionately Gain More Than East or Middle West

May Mean That 50 New Seats Will Be Added to National House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (By the Associated Press).—Examination of the final census figures, which place the population of the continental United States at 105,653,108, indicates that the west and the south proportionately will gain more in a political way than the east or the middle west through increased membership in the house of representatives, in more votes in the electoral college and in larger delegations to the national political conventions.

This result will obtain whatever basis of apportionment is adopted by congress next winter, fixing the size of the next house, which in turn is reflected in the electoral college and in the conventions of the big political parties.

As a result of the increase of 13,710,842 in population during the past ten years, 50 new seats must be added to the house to prevent any state from losing any part of its present representation. Should the present membership of 435 be left unchanged by increasing the basis of apportionment, there will have to be a transfer of 13 seats now held by 13 states to nine other states.

For the past half a century the precedent has been to increase the size of the house so as to prevent loss of existing representation by any state. As a result, the house has grown from 213 to 435 members, with only three states—Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont—losing one member each in the last 50 years.

If this precedent is followed this year, five additional representatives must be given to California, four each to New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan; three to Illinois and Texas; two to Massachusetts, New Jersey and North Carolina; and one each to Alabama, Arizona, New Mexico, Georgia, Maryland, Montana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Virginia, Arkansas and Minnesota.

While the present basis of apportionment is 211,577 inhabitants or its major fraction to the congressional district, congress can increase the basis to 219,427 without causing any loss. To advance beyond the latter figure will mean that Maine would lose one seat, with the net result of 49 new seats in congress.

Congressional leaders are strongly opposed to any large increase in the house.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL MILLS

Underwear Department of Lawrence Mfg. Co. Closed for Indefinite Period

Bay State Cotton Mills Shut Down Till Nov. 1—Other Shut Downs

The cotton mill operatives of Lowell will be given an opportunity to rest during the early part of the week for practically all of the mills close tomorrow noon until Wednesday morning. Some of the plants shut down Wednesday night until next Wednesday morning.

The employees of the Lawrence Mfg. Co., which shut down its underwear department last night for the shutdown have petitioned the company to make an effort to avert the shutdown even to the extent of revising the present wage schedule if that is necessary.

The Bay State Cotton Corp., employing about 600 hands, shut down last night until Nov. 1. One of the mill officials stated this morning that despite the fact that there are orders on hand the production is much greater than the sales and in an endeavor to reduce the stock to normal, it was deemed advisable to cut down the production during the month of October.

Silesia Mills

The various departments of the Silesia mills in North Chelmsford shut down Wednesday evening until Wednesday of the next week, with the exception of the wool sorting department which will reopen Monday morning.

For the past few weeks the Silesia mills have only worked the three first days of each week, but on account of the holiday next week this has been changed to Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and the change is for next week only.

The George C. Moore scouring mill, another North Chelmsford plant, will shut down tomorrow noon until Wednesday morning.

STORM WARNING ISSUED

Winds of Gale Force Off North Atlantic Coast Tonight and Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Winds of gale force off the Middle Atlantic coast this afternoon and tonight and off the North Atlantic coast tonight and tomorrow, were forecast today by the weather bureau in a special storm warning.

The disturbance which was centered over the Bahamas yesterday was reported by the buoy at 10.50 a. m. to have reached latitude 30, longitude 10, or between the North Carolina coast and Bermuda. Indications were that it would move north-eastward, its force increasing as it neared the coast.

COURT ADJOURNS OVER THE HOLIDAY

Arguments were made today before Judge Bishop and a jury in the superior court in the case of Joseph H. Gormley against the Boston & Maine railroad. The plaintiff is suing to recover damages for injury to his left hand received, it is alleged, as the result of its being caught in the crack of a closing door of a car belonging to the defendant company. The alleged accident happened last April.

Fred N. Wier, of Trull, Wier & O'Connell, made the closing statement for the defense to the jury. John A. Crowley and Edward J. Tierney conducted the case for the plaintiff and the rest to the jury was made by M. J. Tierney.

Judge Elias B. Bishop delivered the charge to the jury, and at its close announced that the jury members deliberated for service until next Wednesday as the Middlesex county superior court, both in Lowell and Cambridge, would adjourn over the holiday.

Harding Victory Means Reactionaries Will Control Three Branches of Government, Says Cox

BRITAIN SENDS ULTIMATUM

Threatens Action Against Soviet Russia if British Prisoners Are Not Released

Bolsheviki Given Until Sunday to Comply With Demand in Note by Curzon

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Great Britain has threatened action against soviet Russia if steps are not taken by Sunday for the release of British prisoners held by the Bolsheviki, says the Herald, organ of labor, which today prints what purports to be the text of notes exchanged by the British and soviet governments.

Leonid Krassin, head of the Russian trade mission here, has replied on behalf of the Bolsheviki regime that it will promise to fulfill the conditions required by Great Britain when the latter carries out its part of the bargain made last July for the mutual release of all prisoners.

The note sent to Moscow by Earl Curzon of Kedleston, British secretary of state for foreign affairs was dated Oct. 1, according to the Herald. It charged the Russians with "flagrant violation" of the conditions which the soviet accepted in July, regarding prisoners and propaganda.

"We have given," the note concluded, "an undertaking to which we have scrupulously adhered; that we will assist in any hostile action against the soviet government, but, unless by Oct. 10, we have definite evidence that conditions then laid down regarding the release of British prisoners are being complied with we will take whatever action we consider necessary to secure their release."

TO VOTE FOR COX

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Herbert Parsons, member of the republican national and republican national executive committees from 1916 to 1920, today announced his intention to vote for Governor Cox.

His announcement was made in a letter resigning from the New York county republican committee of which he once was chairman.

MARSHALL GIVES VIEWS ON TEETH

Vice President Discusses Harding's Attitude on International Agreements

Says He Wants to Strike Out "Notwithstanding" and Substitute "Nevertheless"

MANKATO, Minn., Oct. 8.—Vice President Marshall left today for Duluth after giving his views on "teeth" in international agreements at a rally here last night.

"Senator Harding," he said, "is for a world high court, providing it has teeth in it. He is against the League of Nations because of Article X, declaring it has no teeth in it. He wants one with and the other without, but he seems agreed that he must have something with teeth."

"What's the difference? What's the matter with the league? One thing and one thing only—the democrats were responsible for the teeth in it. If I were stating the matter before the senate, I would say:

"Question—The gentleman from Ohio moves to strike out the word, 'notwithstanding,' and substitute the word 'nevertheless.' That's all it amounts to."

When he left congress last June, Mr. Marshall said, he was of the opinion.

LLOYD GEORGE TALKS ON TREATY

BLANDUDNO, Wales, Oct. 8.—Premier Lloyd George in a speech here today declared that the "conflict of parties in America, has led to the result that they have not yet signed the treaty of peace with Germany." He asserted that if there had been a conflict like that in Great Britain the latter would have had no peace and there would have been no treaty.

"There are some who criticize the treaty of Versailles," he said. "Butter that than that a state of war should be going on for years and nothing done." He added that there were some people who imagined that to ignore disagreeable facts was proof of exalted principles.

Every belligerent country except the United States, said the premier, had been driven to form a coalition government in order to get the best man of all parties together to save the nation. The United States was not so much involved in the war as the countries of Europe, he pointed out. It came in late and then put forth colossal efforts. Its assistance was crucial and determinant, but it did not have the time to make the same sacrifice as the other belligerent countries. The burdens of war in America were heavy but not comparable to those of Europe.

BIBLE "BEST SELLER" IN U.S. BRITAIN AND JAPAN

TOKIO, Oct. 8.—The bible is not only the "best seller" in the United States and England, but has now become the "best seller" in Japan, according to the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Locke, Methodist Episcopal bishop of Manila, P. I., who, in an address here today before the World's Sunday School Congress, declared that seven-tenths of the people of the world now have bibles in their own languages. A century ago, he said, only one-fifth of the people were so provided and now each year nearly 20,000,000 bibles are published in 500 or more languages and dialects.

Bishop Locke declared the bible is the greatest civilizing force in the world's history. It contains a perfect standard of faith, morals and character and presents the only correct solution of the mystery of life. From Cardman to Kipling," he said, "English literature is permeated by bible thought and bible diction."

Among the famous men and women who avowed faith in the bible and admired its worth and beauty he mentioned Shakespeare, Bacon, Milton, Carlyle, Macaulay, Coleridge, Tennyson, Byron, Sir Walter Scott, Ruskin, Napoleon, Andrew Jackson, Grant, Lee, General Grant, De la Torre, Goethe, Wilberforce, Hugo, Sir Isaac Newton, John Adams, Deane and Queen Victoria.

The enemies of the bible, the bishop said, had done their worst to destroy it and when they imagined they had overturned it they found the bible was a cube and is always right side up. He told the case of a Japanese scholar of great mental vigor, who had been reared as a Confucianist and who commented thus upon a translation of the bible which had been given him by an American missionary: "I read page after page until I came to the 13th chapter of St. Paul's First Epistle to the Romans, beginning: 'If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels but have not love I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal.' I read the whole chapter. I was fascinated. I had never seen or heard or dreamed of a morality like that. I felt that it was above the reach of the human race, that it must have come from heaven, that the man who wrote that chapter must have received light from God—from God, about whose existence I had been speculating. And then I read the Gospel of St. John and the words of Christ filled me with wonder. They were not to be resisted. I could not refuse them my faith."

LECTURE ON SPIRITISM

Speaker Reveals Tricks Represented by Mediums as "Spiritistic Manifestations"

To reveal the tricks which mediums represent as "spiritistic manifestations," Roy Fr. Charles J. Heredia, S. J., of Holy Cross college, Worcester, gave a public performance before a very large audience last night in the associate hall. The lecture opened at 8 o'clock and lasted for over two hours during which time Fr. Heredia announced that he had conducted his listeners through what is commonly called a "spiritistic seance." Fr. Heredia is an instructor of Spanish and psychology at Holy Cross college and for many years has given extensive study to spiritism. He was invited to give his lecture in this city by a number of prominent members of the Lowell council, Knights of Columbus.

Rev. Fr. Heredia, of the Knights of Columbus, introduced the speaker as one of whom many might have heard through reports of his lectures in the newspapers in different parts of the country and as one who really need no introduction. The speaker then said that he had delivered 57 lectures on spiritism in the last five or six months and thus the subject of spiritism had become very prominent within the last three or four years. "But in regard to spiritism," said the speaker, "I understand that those who believe in nothing will believe in anything that you wish to put before them. The practice of 'spiritism' is foolish. Some say that it is natural phenomena, others that it is brought about by collusion with the devil, but in spite of this we see and hear of people every day who go insane from its continual practice. The purpose of my lectures is not to consider spiritism from its religious or moral point of view, but to take it rather on its ridiculous side, leaving the serious work of investigation not to the masses but to honest investigators and common sense theologians. Some say that we have the authority of scientists to corroborate the genuine character of the spiritistic phenomena. Because Conan Doyle, a novelist, or Sir Oliver Lodge, physicist, or Crookes the chemist, tells us that the phenomena exist and are wrought by the souls many of us seem to be bound to admit their testimony, but go to Harvard, Yale, Columbia or Stanford and ask real scientists whether they admit spiritism they will laugh at the very question.

"What genuine phenomena exist are not produced at 50 cents, five nights a week in the back streets of our largest cities. Yet this is the brand of spiritism experienced by 95 per cent of its enthusiasts. Realizing this I thought it would be a great lesson to people to see how easily the so-called phenomena of spiritism could be reproduced by a priest who is certainly not in collusion with the devil. Audiences witness the phenomena produced much better than by the ordinary mediums; they cannot detect nor explain the method, and yet they are sure that it is all a deception.

"I do not perform tricks in my lectures, but reproduce one by one all the physical phenomena produced by the greatest mediums on earth from the raps of the Fox sisters to the levitation of Daniel Douglas Home. It is so doing I feel to be merely performing tricks that is not my fault, because I am faithfully reproducing what they do.

"Do not forget the power of suggestion. When a faculty is repeated and repeated and repeated as a fact, we begin to believe that it is true. That is what has happened in the case of thousands of so-called spiritistic phenomena. There is always some lack in each of the phenomena. That does not mean that I deny the existence of genuine phenomena; I admit them, because I have seen some of them myself, but I do question the explanation given by the 'Spiritist.' Lightning had been a phenomena from the beginning of the world and yet for sixty centuries civilized and uncivilized nations explained it by the devil, the gods or by some preternatural powers.

"Then came Ben Franklin with his kite and proved it to be electricity. So it has been with spiritistic phenomena, only we are still waiting for an explanation. I certainly deny that spiritism has clearly established its claims as an explanation of psychic phenomena. I do not want to give theories, but on the other hand, when you are sleeping at night and a mosquito comes and lights on your nose, you brush it off or change your position. Are you conscious? No, you are in your sub-conscious mind. All this is a complicated affair, and is not a teaching of the church, but simply a likely explanation of the so-called spiritistic phenomena.

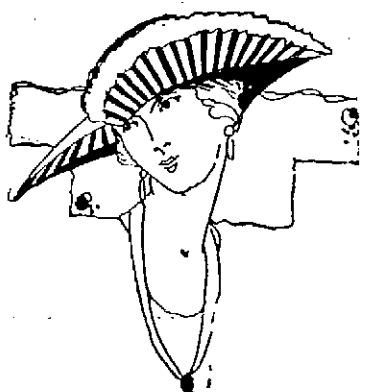

"The ouija board tells us nothing only what we know ourselves in our sub-conscious minds. It is the action of the sub-conscious mind on the muscles of the arms and hands that works the ouija board. If you close your eyes for a long time with your fingers extended to any table, you will find that when you open your eyes again that your fingers have moved. The ouija board can answer nothing that is not known in your sub-conscious mind."

During his entire lecture Fr. Heredia performed most of the so-called spirit tricks with the aid of members of the audience. The most interesting was the one in which he had his hands securely tied together and to a chair on which he sat and took off the coat of a man standing beside him with the aid of his "astral" body. The stage of the hall was draped completely in black. On several occasions all lights were put out to assist in the calling of the spirits. When they were flashed on again, hats of the members of the audience called to the stage would be found scattered about the hall, thrown there as Father Heredia said, "by the spirit in communication with the medium." He read cards, reproduced unknown drawings, read questions on cards in sealed envelopes and did many other tricks including the one in which five men in company with him, lifted a table by placing their fingers tips upon it. These were all referred to by the lecturer as "spiritistic manifestations" fostered by the idea of spiritism prevalent nowadays but all tricks produced upon people who are unable to detect the deception.

COLBY SPEAKS FOR DEMOCRATIC TICKET

CLEVELAND, Oct. 5.—An appeal for dispassionate consideration of issues in the political campaign marked the address here last night of Marked Colby, secretary of state, the first speech of Mr. Colby's western trip in support of the democratic ticket.

"After party bigotry, partisan malice and deep and uncontrolled antipathies," Mr. Colby said, did not form a proper background for discussion of public duty.

The speaker took up the claim "so confidently advanced by the republican party that it is sure of success because of the prevalent desire in the country for a change."

"Even the democrats are apprehensive that there is something in this," he said. "It may be true that many of you want a change. If so, you ought to know why you do and what you hope to get by way of alternative to what you have. I refuse to discuss the questions of the home with you on the theory that you want a change so much that you are indifferent to the question as to whether it will be for the better or for the worse."

"Now let us see what it is you desire to change," he continued.

"Do you desire to change our attitude toward the Latin-American countries on this hemisphere? Have you not seen their regard for this country, their confidence in its purposes, even by leaps and bounds with every year of Wilson's administration? Would you change this?"

"Do we hear any more of the militarist clamor for armed intervention in Mexico? No! That is all settled. President Wilson has adhered to his high aim and his fixed purpose of

marked by any act of oppression. Would you change this?"

The republican party had "tumbled in sincerity" with the currency problem for years, the speaker said, because of the "desire of republican financial interests that no solution should be agreed upon that in any way lessened the power of these interests over the national finances."

Mr. Marshall asserted that the republicans were the first to launch this country upon a course among old world powers.

"William McKinley was the republican president who first started America on a course of responsibility," he said. "It is now a question of whether the republicans are men enough to come forward and shoulder the responsibility."

The vice president declared the people of the United States were never better off than at the present time.

Like Colored Woman Seeking Divorce
"If the democratic party is turned out now," he said, "it is for no more valid reason than the colored woman gave in asking for a divorce—simply want a change of taste."

Mr. Marshall stated that for the past ion that the republicans would stand for the league with the Lodge reservations and the democrats for the Hitchcock reservations.

Lodge and Johnson in Same Bed
"Then the republicans met at Chicago," he continued, "and decided upon a very funny course, after four days of dickerings to make Henry Cabot Lodge and Hiram Johnson lie in the same bed—and nobody knows just what they have been trying to do on the league issue since."

Mr. Marshall asserted that the republicans were the first to launch this country upon a course among old world powers.

Like Colored Woman Seeking Divorce
"If the democratic party is turned out now," he said, "it is for no more valid reason than the colored woman gave in asking for a divorce—simply want a change of taste."

Mr. Marshall stated that for the past seven years, he had presided over the prize school of oratory in the country, which he sometimes called "the cave of winds." In this school, he said, Senator Harding was his best pupil and he had nothing but personal praise for the republican nominee.

I never let a bunch of woollens insult my intelligence. If sellers insist in making me buy at a give-away price, I am in the give-away price tailoring business. I can always sell custom tailored clothes as low as I can buy the goods.

Thousands of Lowellites must need clothing. The extremely high prices the past few years have been too much for many persons who have not got a good break during the war, and the war's padded profits.

This is unquestionably the best purchase I have made in four years, and coming at a time when I am loaded with fall woollens, I do not care to carry this stock in connection with my present one and have decided to use it as an advertisement and place it on sale at a price that is in most cases less than one-half of the original figure. Around a hundred good styles left to choose from.

BLACKSTONE CLOTHING CO. STOCK, $30.00 to $40.00 SUITINGS, MADE TO YOUR MEASURE, ANY STYLE

This is an excellent opportunity for my old customers to take advantage of the values which I consider to be the lowest Suit or Overcoat offered in New England today.

These garments are made by union tailors, getting the same pay as the tailor who makes your $75.00 suits elsewhere. The selection of cloths are Blues, Greys, Browns, Stripes and Fancy Novelties, made to your measure.

IRELAND WILL GET NO HELP FROM HARDING

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 8.—In one of his speeches today Senator Harding declared his position with regard to Ireland.

He said: "I would no more tell Great Britain what to do with Ireland than I would permit Great Britain to tell us what we should do with the Philippines." Governor Cox has stated that he would at the earliest opportunity bring the Irish question before the League of Nations for settlement. Senator Harding again declared himself against the League of Nations and in reply to a question said American troops have no business in Germany.

Taking up one of the questions about separate peace with Germany, Senator Harding reiterated that he had no idea such a step would be necessary. To another question asking whether he believed the league could call us in war without congressional action, he replied:

"Certainly not. But if we entered the league and assumed the obligations of the covenant of Paris and the council of the league would decide we should contribute our sons to carry on war under the covenant, then congress would be obliged to send them or we would be guilty of the grossest dishonesty."

STRUCK BY TRAIN

James Alexia of 229 Paige street was struck by a passenger train in the Boston & Maine freight yard in Railroad street last evening and received a bad cut over the eye, but was not seriously injured. He was treated at the Lowell General hospital.

SEES WAR WITH MEXICO IF U. S. QUILTS LEAGUE

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Henry Morgenthau, ambassador to Mexico, last night predicted war with Mexico within a year if America does not enter the League of Nations.

He made the prediction in a speech at Symphony Hall before the final session of the International congress of Free Christians and other liberals. "There is an unfortunate misrepresentation of the League of Nations by certain members of both parties," he said. "They tell you that the league means war—means sending our boys across the sea. I want to prophesy to you that not entering the league means war with Mexico within a year, and that means bloodshed."

"I realize that I run the risk of never being confirmed by the senate as ambassador to Mexico, and I don't care whether they confirm me or not." The audience applauded, and Mr. Morgenthau concluded: "This is the time to be honest and say what you think."

SAYS 10 P. C. OF STOCK ISSUES WORTHLESS

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—The annual loss to the American public through the purchase of fraudulent securities was estimated at $500,000,000 by Charles J. Andrews, secretary of the National Association of Securities Commissioners before the special state blue law commission which continued its hearings today. Mr. Andrews said that about 10 per cent of the stock offered to the public was worthless.

Enactment of legislation that would prevent the sale or advertising of worthless stock, was advocated by Mr. Andrews. He said that although 35 states have "blue sky laws," some "are so loose that practically everything gets through."

Roy C. Osmond of Chicago, president of the Investment Bankers' Association, told the commission that only 5 per cent of stock issues were bad. He said that investment bankers do not oppose reasonable regulation.

George W. Hodges of New York, former president of the association, expressed the opinion that 50 per cent of the promoters now selling fraudulent or questionable stock could be put out of business in 20 days if existing laws were enforced.

LYNN GOES ON COAL RATIONS

LYNN, Oct. 8.—This city went on a one-ton coal ration today and residents whose bins were empty found it necessary to make application to the health commission before coal dealers would supply them with fuel. The situation resulted from an agreement between Mayor Creamer and local dealers whereby one ton of coal will be allowed to each coal burning unit.

Applications for a second ton will not be honored until the first has been used. Inspectors will investigate each request for a ton of coal and delivery of whatever of hard coal is available will be made only when approved by the health commission.

CHELMSFORD GRANGE
A regular meeting of Chelmsford Grange was held last evening and at the close of the business session a very interesting stereoscopic lecture was given by F. E. Cox, a representative of the New England Telephone Co., whose subject was "The Wonders of the Telephone—Past and Present." Mr. Cox, who is the editor of Telephone Topics, gave a very comprehensive talk on the course of the telephone's development from its invention by Dr. Bell to the present day.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS
Complete control of the housing and maintenance of Lowell's public schools

by the school committee was advocated by Thomas B. Delaney and Gardner W. Pearson, members of the board, at a meeting of the chamber of commerce committee on education and Americanization late yesterday afternoon. The matter was discussed at length and it was finally decided to have Chairman Clarence M. Weed appoint a sub-committee to investigate the feasibility of such a project and to report back to the directors of the chamber.

RELIEF CORPS MEETING
Mrs. Elvira Giles Flanders occupied the chair at the regular meeting of the James A. Garfield Relief Corps, which was held last evening. Routine business was transacted and it was announced that an outing will be held by the corps at the home of Comrade Lois in Chelmsford, Oct. 13.

Washington Street Lady Had to Be Strapped to Bed

"I Will Never Tire of Telling My Friends About What a Wonderful Remedy Vitalitas Iron Tonic Is, and What It Did for My Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble, After All Other Remedies Failed," Says Mrs. Lizzie E. Salmon

From day to day through the columns of this paper, we are publishing the testimonial from some poor sufferer who has been restored back to good health by the exclusive use of Vitalitas iron tonic. Today we are publishing a true statement, as given to us by Mrs. Lizzie E. Salmon, who says:

"For many years I have been a sufferer of rheumatism and stomach trouble. At times I was so bad that I had to be strapped to my bed. During all this time I have taken a great many different medicines, but I cannot say that I have received any results from any of them. Having heard so much about Vitalitas Iron tonic and the wonderful things it was doing for other people, I decided it would be just the remedy for me to take and to my great surprise, I now feel like a new person. I consider Vitalitas has no equal and I most highly recommend its use because it did for me what other remedies failed to do." (Signed) Mrs. Lizzie E. Salmon, 25 Washington St., Gloucester, Mass.

Vitalitas has no equal in the treatment of rheumatism, indigestion, nervousness, stomach, kidney or liver ills. It is a natural iron tonic to build up a run-down, weakened condition. Get it at Greens Drug Store, Merrimack Sq.—Adv.

Beautiful New Church in North Billerica Will Open For First Services on Sunday

NEW ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH, NORTH BILLERICA.

The new St. Andrew's church in North Billerica will be opened on Sunday next. The first mass will be celebrated by the pastor, Rev. David J. Murphy, at 8 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass will be sung by Rev. F. E. Rogers of Winchester, assisted by Rev. D. J. Murphy as deacon, and Rev. Fr. Cunningham as sub-deacon.

The parishioners are looking forward with joyful anticipation to the occupancy of their new church, the dedication of which will be held at a date to be announced later. The building is an ornament to the town and a monument to the untiring efforts of the pastor as well as to the faith and loyalty of the Catholics of Billerica.

The old St. Andrew's church building on Rogers street, North Billerica, was purchased from the Universalist society, Billerica Centre in 1885, and removed to its present location on land obtained through the late Hon. Thomas Talbot.

It was taken in charge by the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, and was called St. Andrew, in honor of the late Father Andrew Garin of Lowell.

through whose efforts a Catholic church was placed there.

Among the early pastors of the church were the late Frs. LaBret, Buckle and Reardon. Many of the parishioners today will also remember with love and reverence the saintly Fr. Giguere, who was the pastor for thirteen years. Other Oblate fathers who were assigned to the parish at various times were Frs. Dacey, Moloney, Emery, McAvinue, Paquette, Lavole, Gagnon, Desrochers, Tighe, Foley and Cornell. Of these Frs. Moloney, Gagnon and Desrochers have passed away.

In November, 1890, the church was completely remodeled, and an extensive addition built under the supervision of the pastor, the late Father Moloney.

For 15 years the church was attended by the Oblate fathers as a mission with no resident pastor.

In his Eminence Cardinal O'Connell erected the mission to a separate parish and Rev. David J. Murphy was appointed as its first pastor.

In January, 1911, Father Murphy secured 57,649 feet of land, a triangular lot, situated between Talbot avenue and Celson street as a site for rectory and church. The land was owned by the Talbot Mills company, and the parish is indebted to Mr. Frederick S. Clark, treasurer of the Talbot Mills, for his liberal and courteous treatment and generous dealing in the negotiations for the purchase of the site.

In April, 1915, plans were completed for the erection of the new rectory, which was finished and ready for occupancy in December of the same year.

The next step in the fulfillment of Rev. Fr. Murphy's plans was the erection of the present church building. In October, 1915, ground was broken for the new building, and the structure has just been completed.

The first mass will be celebrated next Sunday, October 10, by the pastor at 8 o'clock and at 10 o'clock solemn high mass will be sung by Rev. F. E. Rogers of Winchester, Rev. D. J. Murphy, deacon; Rev. Fr. Cunningham, sub-deacon.

In June, 1920, Rev. John Cunningham was appointed as an assistant to the Father Murphy.

Description of Church

The building was designed by O'Connell & Shaw, architects, Boston, and is decidedly a very beautiful edifice. It is a cement stucco building deriving its inspiration from the early Spanish colonial architecture of this country which has proven most adaptable in its simplicity and dignity to the present day ecclesiastical building problem.

The building proper is 110 feet long, 50 feet wide, accommodating comfortably on the main floor a congregation of six hundred.

The main entrance is through a colonnade porch, which forms the central motif of the front. Flanking this are two side entrances giving access from the bounding streets which converge directly in front of the main entrance. Additional exits are provided at the chancel and adjoining the sacristies. These latter are placed at opposite sides of the chancel and accommodate the priests and altar boys.

The confessionals, which are of the recessed type, are located on either side of the church, close to the sanctuary.

The church interior is entirely free from columns and the roof is supported by open trusses, which are permitted to show, thereby attaining a greater effective height.

At the entrance end over the vestibule is placed the choir gallery, which is reached directly from the main entrance.

The interior decoration is handled in a complimentary manner depending to a great extent on the stained glass windows for obtaining its richness in color. Nothing has been allowed to interfere with establishing the main altar as the focal point for it is upon this that all interest centres. The altar and the reredos are most unusual in design, the ornament being confined to the infraction of the large panel which forms the field of the reredos. This serves to throw into high relief the altar immediately in front of it and concentrates the attention upon it.

Within the sanctuary rail and at either side of the chancel arch are the side altars. A basement auditorium is provided under the entire building, the heating and ventilating apparatus occupying the space under the vestries, and being up to date in every particular. The heating contractor was Joseph F. McManis of Lowell, and sheet metal ventilation work was done by J. H. O'Neill.

The Eusey organ, which was purchased under the direction of Mr. Michael Johnson, organist of St. Patrick's church, during the pastorate of Rev. Lawrence Tighe, was removed and reinstalled in the new church by the Eusey Co., Boston.

The plans for the laying out of the grounds about the church were drawn, without charge to the parish, by Warren H. Manning of North Billerica, work being done by H. W. Tarbell of Lowell.

The new St. Andrew's church is equal, if not superior to any of its size in the ham was appointed as an assistant to

HOOOSIER

— the Kitchen Cabinet that saves miles of steps

Think of the needless steps—the wasted hours

Then You Will Realize That You Must Use a

Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet

WHY should you endure kitchen drudgery when you can end it easily and forever? Why should you work with less efficient equipment than man? Why should you squander woman's charms in needless steps and wasted hours?

There can be no good reason. Science leaves you no excuse. For the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet brings kitchen freedom. It enables you to sit restfully at your work and to accomplish tasks in far less time. Do not confuse it with cupboards sometimes called cabinets. The Hoosier is a scientific labor-saving device—the cabinet a million and a half women use.

Low Prices—Convenient Terms

Price cannot withhold this great convenience—Hoosier's prices are moderate. And you need not have the cash—Hoosier's are sold on convenient terms. Should you, then, deny yourself this work-saving, needful article of home equipment? Reason says, "No!"

Come at once—look—and select the Hoosier that pleases you most. Join the Hoosier Club by depositing FIVE DOLLARS. Your cabinet will be delivered at once. Then pay the balance in small weekly payments.

We are going to make this a big Hoosier week. And we want every housewife to come and see the Hoosier demonstrated. Don't put off your visit. Come now!

Messages Seek Relief From Coal Shortage — Strikers Return at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Telegraphic appeals to the White House from many regions of the country for relief from the coal shortage and for an agreement on methods of preventing serious conditions this winter, have been referred to the Interstate Commerce commission.

Announcement that the commission would deal with the situation was made by Secretary Tamm after he had conferred with Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and Howard Elliott, chairman of the Northern Pacific.

The suggestion that it might be necessary to name a coal controller has not been considered, Mr. Tamm said.

Strikers Return to Work

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 8.—Anthracite miners who have been on strike against the Pennsylvania and the Hillside Coal companies, returned to work today. Pampunen went back yesterday to free the mines of water.

A settlement affecting 10,000 was made in New York by officials of the Pittston chamber of commerce and the Erie Railroad Co.

A strike against the contract system was called 11 weeks ago. It was settled but after working less than a week, the men again struck last Monday charging that the mine foremen were violating the agreement.

May Call Convention

SHAMOKIN, Oct. 8.—Unless President Wilson or Secretary of Labor Wilson offers encouragement to the anthracite miners in their demands for a readjustment of wages and the reinstatement of men alleged to have been discriminated against by the coal companies, the policy committee will meet at Hazleton next Monday to arrange a call for a tri-district convention to be held at Pottsville, on Oct. 26, according to a statement here today by C. J. Golden, president of District No. 9, upon his return from a conference with Secretary Wilson in Canton, Ohio.

A Velvety Skin and Crystal Clear Complexion—Pimples and Such—Blemishes Gone—This is the Story of Stuart's Calcium Wafer.

If you will look closely at a wonderfully beautiful skin, and observe its soft, delicate texture, you will find the pink capillary blood tinting

it. And there you see what is produced when your skin has been cleansed with Stuart's Calcium Wafer.

You will be delighted to see this wonderful change that so often takes place after using the wafer. Pimples, blotches, liver spots, black heads, muddy complexion, and all kinds of impurities gather in the skin because it is one of the natural outlets of the body. But if you supply it with the proper material it will convert the poisons into a harmless substance and pass off in the natural perspiration instead of ugly accumulations.

Get a 60-cent box today of Stuart's Calcium Wafer at any drug store, or then you may count on a complexion worth having.—Adv.

PREMIER NITTI DESCRIBES CONDITIONS IN EUROPE

NAPLES, Oct. 8 (By the Associated Press).—Former Premier Francesco Nitti, who is sojourning here, in the course of a statement went over some of the problems which are perplexing Europe and America.

"On the eye of the presidential struggle in the United States," he said, "it is well that the European situation be thoroughly considered to America. Europe cannot quickly regain its feet without the help of the United States, but the United States might help only those countries whose policy is peace. The American democracy has a great task before it. I am a sincere friend of America, but I cannot truthfully say I believe that the actions of her leaders have been useful to the world.

"No man had more humanitarian ideas than President Wilson. But he was not sufficiently acquainted with Europe, and thus the treaties concluded have no great moral worth. They contain the germs of deep hatreds and perhaps new wars. The United States could even now, if they wished, exert a beneficial influence. This is not only their moral duty but it is also in their interest to do so.

"I do not know if there is peace anywhere in the world, but there certainly is none in Europe. Around you, you see nothing but armies. While the war was still going on people said this would be the last war, but Germany's militarist spirit has been acquired by the peoples who overthrew Germany. Europe is alive with proposals of conquest, with eagerness to hoard raw materials.

"We always declared we were not waging war against the German people, but against German militarism and still, now that the German empire has fallen and now that militarist Germany is wrecked, we have not changed our attitude. Germany today is in an intolerable position, still undergoes all sorts of odious investigations and is submitting to all sorts of humiliations. Germany has no ships, has no sufficient raw materials and has no coal, while the exchange rate is so unfavorable she cannot buy abroad. Germany, while suffering hunger, is condemned to pay an indeterminate indemnity for an indeterminate number of years.

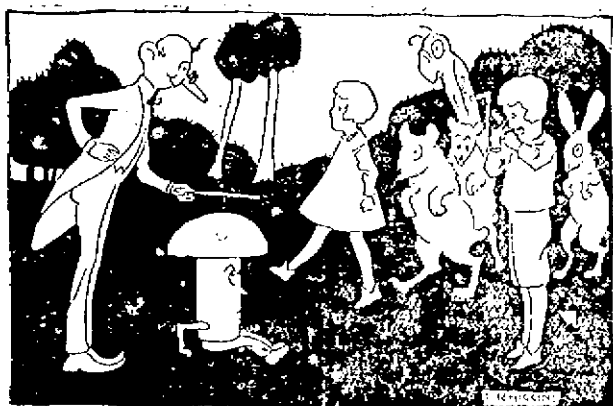

"It is true the victory confers certain rights, but it imposes also certain duties. Nobody more than myself, who am a firm believer in democracy and peace, hated German imperialism. Is the American democracy really pleased with the terms which have been taken? All Europe, with its population, was the great market for the exchange of ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS by Olive Roberts Barton.

A BAD TIME FOR MARKIE

Around and around marched the pupils of Meadow Grove school with Nancy leading, Nick playing the time on his mouth-organ, and Mr. Scribble Scratch tapping the time on his desk. It was very fine marching in spite of the difference in the legs of the pupils. Greenville Grasshopper just took one step to an alse, leaping over the heads of those in front and then waiting until he could fall in line again. Buddy Blue Bottle's steps weren't bigger 'n the eye of a needle, and Cutie body watching—five extra ones you know, as the school board was visiting that day? But after awhile the little muskrat boy forgot about his troubles. The reason was that his mind got on the words in the marching song, more especially the last verse, which went like this: "Mr. Fish a-swimm' in the brook so very near. Heard the skitter's song, and then swam close so he could hear. Thought it was so fine he up and

AROUND AND AROUND MARCHED THE PUPILS OF MEADOW GROVE SCHOOL.

Cottonball had to watch with all his might so he wouldn't hop on top of some of the little ones and mash them. Markie Muskrat, though, was in a peck of trouble with his mouth full of chewing-gum and no place to put it but a hollow in his cheek. To make it worse, every time he started to sing the song about the muskrat and the fish, his mouth started to water. He'd have thrown the chewing-gum away, only how could he with every-swallowed it, my dear. As we go marching on! Markie's mind dwelt most particularly on two words—"fish" and "swallowed"—and what happened then was very natural. He began to think he had Mr. Fish in his mouth instead of just chewing-gum, and, before he knew it, he gave a big gulp. Down went the gum, only it stuck in his throat and Markie choked alarmingly. (Copyright, 1920, N.Y.A.)

goods. Germany was the greatest European centre of production.

"Now, all this is upset and smashed. The world never again will have the former low prices without Germany's fruitful work. We hated German militarism, but admire her industriousness and perseverance, which has given her first place among the world's producing nations. Why should we do without Germany's work and how can one expect Germany to pay any indemnity in the present state of affairs? My words often have been misunderstood by the imperialistic press, but so long as I have a single breath left I shall not passively assist in the waste of so much energy. Can we expect Germany to control Germany in the way we are doing now?

"Regarding Russia, I think our policy has been all wrong. The entente must make up its mind to look upon Russia, not as an enemy, but as a fallen friend who has overtaken his strength waning war on our behalf and has succumbed. Russia now is communist, but its economic system is absurd and bound to fail. Everyone who has been to Russia has returned horrified. It is a regime of absolutism and violence which gives rise to great poverty and impossibility of production. Bolsheviki Russia soon will fall, but with what right do we talk of the immorality of the present Russian government when for so many years we have admitted the government of the czar, which added tyranny to violence? When the communist government has drained the cup of misery to the dregs it will fall, or rather be transformed into a democracy with marked traces of agrarian socialism.

"The attitude now is following the policy dictated to induce people to sympathize with Russia by sending arms to the generals fighting against the communist government. To take up relations with Russia again we ought to ask only one condition—fundamental in all civil relations—namely, guarantee that the soviet government will not meddle with the internal politics of other countries. Instead, forgetting Russia is an autonomous state, in exchange for recognition we dared ask for guarantees that Russia would pay the debts contracted abroad before and during the war. This is the way Shylock's moral sense worked. Have we not gone so far as to ask that Russia's gold be given as a guarantee to her creditors in our countries? We must distrust the soviet government so long as it does not give sufficient guarantees, but we must also remember not to believe to Russia as if we were a reparations commission. Russia is not a conquered enemy but a fallen friend.

"In conclusion, Germany and also many countries which formed ancient Austria cannot live. Russia is constrained by communist tyranny and violence and the Musselman world is in a ferment not entirely justified. If America, which is the greatest creditor and having the greatest reserves of raw material, wishes to exercise its action in the world, it must exercise it in favor of justice, which is indispensable for prosperity and peace. The restoration of Europe is dependent on the reconstruction of Germany and the return of Russia among the free countries. The Russian people must be convinced we desire their resuscitation, having no interest in their past regime. Europe must find peace, because by continuing the present disorder we risk new wars, which would mean the triumph of brutality and perhaps the collapse of our civilization.

"The European war has been a great duel between the German and Slav races. Italy, allied with the former, passed to the latter for the lofty ideal of justice. Italy cannot, therefore, prepare a new conflict with the Jugoslavians, who are a southern branch of the Slav race anxious to have an outlet to the Adriatic. We have no intention of suffocating their development, but we must have cordial relations with them. For this reason I have favored a direct accord between Italy and Jugoslavia, since any solution imposed by one side would be the cause for war. Any delay in reaching this friendly understanding is injurious to Jugoslavia and also to Italy.

"The situation of Italy is not happy, but what European country emerged from the war with a happy situation? The discipline of the popular classes in Italy has been affected by the bad example of the bourgeois classes. When

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS SURE

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of calamine powder from any drug store—mix with a little on a hot wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dirt and dirt from the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get rid of blackheads. The calamine powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores clean and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method—ADV.

officers, even if inspired by patriotic ideals, disobeyed, the people also considered they had the right to disobey. (Signor Nitti alluded to the expedition of Cambruzzi to Fiume a year ago.) Exaggerations with regard to her Adriatic aspirations have been the worst evil for Italy.

"I cannot believe in a revolutionary movement in Italy. Revolutionaries here can only be mad or irresponsible. Italy has an average of 332 inhabitants to every square mile and 410 to every cultivated square mile, but she has no coal, while her hydraulic power has taken 10 years of constant work to develop. Besides, she needs about 3,000,000 tons of wheat yearly, besides iron, cotton, wool and other things. If Italy experienced a revolution one-third of her population would die of starvation.

"In 20 centuries Italy has been the only country of Europe that has not had a revolution. I firmly believe Italy will soon overcome all her difficulties if she solves two problems, namely, the Adriatic question and the bread question, on both of which her financial settlement depends. I do not believe in a revolutionary danger, because the present situation of Italy is not much different from that of England after the Napoleonic wars.

"Italo-French relations are a very delicate subject. The two countries, allied in war, must be friends in peace with a good understanding of each other. We do not wish any people to be oppressed. Therefore, after we had fought Austria I received the Austrian chancellor, Renner, in Rome as a friend. The support given by me to the economic reconstruction of Germany has caused great, but unjust, resentment in France. France herself has an interest in assisting in the reconstruction of Germany, which means the restoration of Europe. Italy will not participate in any alliance, wishing only the revival of Europe and the consolidation of peace, which will be the program of all democracies."

POLO NOTES

Bill Duggan and his New Bedford league leaders will play Lowell at the Crescent rink tonight.
Paul Gardner, who played in the old league years ago and who came back to help Lowell in the pennant fight three years ago, is playing a great game for New Bedford at halfback.

Duke Dufresne, center for the Whalers, played with Lawrence last year, going to Brockton and then to New Bedford after the down river team. The league Duke is a classy player and is taking a prominent part in New Bedford's fight for the flag.

Jettie and Wiley, the other New Bedford players, did well with the Duggans, Dufresne-Gardner combination.
Lowell defeated New Bedford last Saturday night in an overtime game at Whaletown, and the visitors will be out for revenge tonight.

BIG CROWD ENJOY SERIES AT RINK

Plans have been made to accommodate a large crowd at the Crescent rink tomorrow afternoon, when the fourth game of the world series will be reproduced, play by play, by the electric score board.
The team lays off today, being on their way to Cleveland where they will clash in the first game before the Cleveland fans. While the American league rooters were somewhat disappointed over the second defeat administered yesterday, they feel confident that with Coveski pitching tomorrow the Indians will even up the count.
A large turn-out was on hand yesterday to see the third game, and that they enjoyed the remarkable work of the board was evident many times by the cheers and applause. Smith's great pitching and Wheat's hitting, which were responsible for the Brooklyn victory, found abundant appreciation from those present.
All games of the series will be reproduced by the score board, and those who enjoy the game and cannot go to the Cleveland or Brooklyn ball parks find this device a worthy substitute.

TEXTILE SCHOOL TO PLAY DARTMOUTH

A squad of 25 men left the Lowell Textile school this noon and set sail for Hanover, N. H., where Textile's football eleven will line up against the Dartmouth freshmen tomorrow afternoon. For the first time in several years Dartmouth is on the Textile schedule and the millmen are going the limit to win tomorrow's game.

Dartmouth had more than 150 men out to make the freshmen eleven this year and in the first game of the season, last Saturday, the collegians easily defeated Tilton Academy.

PETER MANNING SETS NEW RECORD

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 8.—Peter Manning, owned by Irving Gleason of New York, lowered the world's record for four-year-old geldings and trotted the fastest three heats ever covered by a horse of any age or sex in winning the Transylvania $5000 trot here yesterday afternoon. The miles were made in 2:03, 2:02 1/2, 2:02 1/2.

Peter Manning was purchased by Mr. Gleason here last fall for $21,000 after he had equalled the world record for three-year-old trotting geldings. Henry Stokes of the Murphy stable held the reins when Peter made his remarkable performance yesterday afternoon.

Prince Lorce again demonstrated that he is the champion double gaited horse by lowering his pacing record to 2:00 flat in a race against time after the Transylvania had been run. A crowd as large as that which attended the racing of the future the first two days was out to see the Transylvania contested. The surprise of the event was the performance of the green mare My Choice who forced Peter Manning to record time and covered the mile in 2:03 1/2 in the first heat.

FOOTBALL SUNDAY

Indiana to Meet the Chelsea Eleven on the Fair Grounds—Looks Like Good Game—The lineup

The Indian football team will play its first game of the season on the old Fair grounds Sunday when it will tackle the Chelsea eleven, formerly the Millstreams, who have built up a strong reputation in this state for last playing. The Indians were scheduled to play at home last Sunday afternoon but at the last moment Saturday afternoon it was called off.

The following players will represent the local team: McIntyre lb., Turner lb., Lynch rb., Loucraft qb., Donnellan re., Coughlin rt., Nolan rg., Riley c., Young lg., Locke rt., John Liston lg., Spence, Fagan, Morse, Moran, Boland, Evans, Leboyne ns subs.

The acquisition of Lynch to the back field gives the Indians a very formidable scoring combination. Last year at Notre Dame Lynch starred in both open field running and line bucking. He can always count to advantage. Turner is fast and also a classy kicker. McIntyre, the other back, while a high class all-around man, shines particularly in throwing forward passes. Donnellan and Liston on the ends are deet-footed and have few superiors in relaying forward passes. Loucraft at quarterback is a very capable and hard working performer. All the other members of the team are noted gridiron heroes of other years and the manager looks forward to one of the most successful seasons on record.

Coach Jackson Palmer requests all the above named players to report at the corner of Lombardy and Gorham streets at 7:30 tonight for their final practice before the game.

STAR N. H. ATHLETE

Gordon T. Nightingale Will Soon Enter the University of West Virginia—Won High Honors

DURHAM, N. H., Oct. 8.—Gordon T. Nightingale, star athlete of New Hampshire college, will soon enter the University of West Virginia, it was announced today. Nightingale won high honors for New Hampshire at the University of Pennsylvania carnival last year.

BALL GAME TOMORROW

Billerica will send a big delegation of fans to see the Knights of Columbus-T.R. & T.'s game at Spalding park tomorrow afternoon. Interest in the game is red hot out there, just as it is in Lowell. These teams played a great game last Saturday, and the Knights, in addition to winning by a score of 4 to 2, topped the gate receipts and a purse of $100 for their trouble. The same size purse is up, and the teams will play for that and the gate receipts again tomorrow. Local fans will pitch for the Billerica boys, and Hooley of Nashua will work for the Knights.

AMERICAN LEGION
Lowell Post to Have Bowling League—Football and Polo Teams—Letter Is New Venture
At an enthusiastic meeting of the athletic committee of the American Legion, held in Legion headquarters last evening, at which encouragement was given to James Gleason, manager of the Lowell team, to enter the first game. The new team is a new venture, but with the support of all members it is expected to be a success.
Any man entering the city Olympics on the South common Legion day is requested to enter as Legion contestants so that a money bonus is possible may be totalled for the Legion.

RACES AT GOLDEN COVE
Horsemen of New England are interested in the match race between Little Prince and Star Richmond at Golden Cove park on Columbus day. As most people hereabouts know, Little Prince is the former Grand Circuit steed that last season raced as a "ringer" under the name of "Peter Scoopem" at the New York state fairs with conspicuous success. Thomas H. Braden bought Little Prince only to learn that his purchase had been sailing under a name not his own, an offense which Little Prince's former owner paid dearly for. Mr. Braden got busy with the National racing board and upon the evidence adduced, was successful in getting Little Prince restored to grace. This season, under Oscar Dowell's piloting, Little Prince has had abundant success on New England and New York tracks. As Little Prince has a mark of 2:04 1/2, it is evident that the pair will furnish some thrills when they meet at Golden Cove next Tuesday.

MIKE DONOVAN WINS
Young Mugger Talks Himself Into Knockout—Counted Out While Sitting on Floor in Quinry Boat
BOSTON, Oct. 8.—K. O. Muggsy of East Boston was counted out last night at the Quincy boxing club while sitting on the floor and arguing with Referee Jack Sheehan. His opponent was Mickey Donovan of Brockton, who was given the award in the seventh round, thus adding another kayo to his record.
In the seventh round, after the men had put up a fairly even fight, the men got into a clinch and were told to break. Donovan popped left and right to the body and Muggsy went to the canvas. He refused to get up and was counted while arguing the point that he had been fouled.
In a red-hot semi-final of eight rounds, Mack Murphy of Norfolk Downs defeated Tony Vatin of Brighton by a good margin.

APPLETON MILL BOWLERS
The results of the contests rolled by the Appleton Mill league on Kitteredge alley last night were as follows:
Slashers—Galsin 246, Bresuit 279, Kimball 213, Charctic 308, Hindle 278; total 1324.
Deavers—Angus 273, Curley 246, San-carrier 255, Barrie 258, Groves 230; totals 1300.
Electricians—Noonan 245, Desrochers 255, Shea 252, J. Murphy 225, J. Murphy 22, totals 1249.
Ivy House—McKelvey 229, Bray 232, Highland 250, Forsythe 221, Mosher 231; totals 1324.

HEAVY REGISTRATION
Another heavy registration took place at city hall yesterday afternoon and evening when the election commissioners enrolled 244 women and 57 men as eligible to vote at the state election. There will be a session this evening from 7 to 9 o'clock, and tomorrow afternoon a special session at the Varnum school from 2 to 4. Registration by wards yesterday was as follows:
Women—Ward 1, 38; ward 2, 37; ward 3, 35; ward 4, 25; ward 5, 25; ward 6, 41; ward 7, 25; ward 8, 48; ward 9, 49; total 314.

MAN FOR PEACE, WOMAN FOR FIGHT, SAYS LEWIS
CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Feminists today were discussing the views of James Hamilton Lewis, democratic candidate for governor of Illinois, on the female of the species.
At a banquet of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association last night, he said: "Man is for peace but woman is for a fight."
"Woman's nature is to demand conflict. If necessary, to establish principles she feels necessary to the government or home."
"In politics men vote for some one or for something. Women vote against someone or something. A woman is more concerned in the defeat or overthrow of what she objects to than as to whom or what shall be put in a place. It is customary to presume women will be for any measure which leads to peace. The fact is that by nature, woman is not for peace. Man is for peace, but woman is for a fight."

GREAT INTEREST IN KLOBY-SIEGAL BOUT

BOSTON, Oct. 7.—While there is a wide difference of opinion as to who will win when Young Kloby and Nate Siegal battle for the New England title of welter champion yet all those who have followed the career of both fighters agree that it will be the fastest, roughest and most grueling fight that New England fans have ever had served to them. Both have the same bulldog style and fight without a moment's respite from going to going.

Kloby by his stubborn fighting on for a half pound more when the articles of agreement were signed indicated that he felt that the heavier fighter was one tough bird. He is congratulating himself for his secret training quarters. With Frankie Mack and Pat Red Nate is undergoing the most careful preparation of his career.

Kloby is working out with "Smiling Kid" Nolan, a husky heavyweight, who claims that Tommy dally makes the mistake of thinking that he is engaged in a real battle. That man is too rough for men when the man at the finish of his first workout with Kloby and he made Tommy promise not to be so rough.

Y. M. C. A. PHYSICAL DEPARTMENT ACTIVE

The physical department of the local Y.M.C.A. has started its winter activities. All the men and boys are invited to join the gym classes and take an active part in the games and sports.

A program has already been mapped out for the year. The two classes of business men will follow their usual schedule, every man should get away from his office and join this large class. Special class Monday, Wednesday and Friday for autumnal work. Drop in some afternoon and see the classes in action and you will be convinced it is worth joining. The two classes of business men are: Young business men, 5:30, Monday, Wednesday and Friday; older business men, 5:15, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

To the young men of the city the senior classes are open at 8:15 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The program for this group is especially interesting. It is planned to work up a basketball team, track team and swimming team for competition with other clubs. Already a great number have tried out for the team and it is hoped that we can make the team's credit to the "Y." Athletics committees are to be formed for the promotion of athletic sports among the seniors. Another feature of the senior division is a wrestling class.

The high school boys have their classes on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 2 o'clock. Athletic teams will be formed from this group also and the interclass competition will be good sport. Fellows who are trying out for the high school varsity teams are especially urged to join and take advantage of the equipment.

One of the most active classes in the "Y" is the employed boys' class. They follow the same schedule as the high school boys and from all indications a strong team will represent this department in all branches of sport. Because of the great number of entrants in this class it has been necessary to make two divisions, as follows: Advanced employed boys meet on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, while the younger employed boys meet Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays. A leaders corps selected from these classes will meet for special instruction with the physical director.

The Juniors Young Athletes of Lowell hold their classes on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4:15 and Saturdays at 10:15. Every young fellow who wants to be "big" as his dad should sign up for this class right away. Instruction will be given in swimming and athletic sports and special emphasis is laid on team play and good leadership.

Due to the insistence of the parents and boys, there will be a class of boys from 10 to 12 years of age. This class will have careful supervision and special emphasis will be laid on games. Free swimming instruction will be given.

Later in the season a class will be formed for men from 12 to 18 in the morning. This will be for business men, policemen, firemen and any others desiring recreation at that time.

The young men and boys' classes will be supervised as follows: Twenty minutes at the beginning of the class which will be taken up with corrective marching, calisthenics and apparatus work. Following this will be a half hour for interclass competition, which will consist of games and track competition between teams elected by the members of the class. These games will be the same for each class during the week and the result posted daily. Following this period, free play will be enjoyed for 20 minutes, ending the evening. Next a shower bath and half an hour in the beautiful spacious swimming pool. Twenty minutes here will be spent in swimming instruction, life saving, and interclass competition, the remaining time spent in free play.

Private swimming lessons will be at the usual fee, five dollars for six lessons, which guarantees to teach the average person.

Tom Quinn, known to most boxing fans as Tom Fall, national amateur lightweight champion of 1917, bantam weight champion, Camp Devens, 1918-19, will conduct a boxing class on Tuesday evenings. Men wishing to join may make application either to Mr. Parker, or at the main office. Boxing has become more popular with the men since the new boxing rules have gone into effect. It is a sport worth taking up for the exercise alone. Mr. Quinn has conducted these classes before at the Y.M.C.A. and his popular instruction brings a big demand as is shown by many applications for admittance to his class. Boxing has great results in the development of muscle action, nerve control, alertness of eye. Contrary to the opinion of some people, it is excellent training for self control and in no way cultivates a desire for prize fighting.

Mr. Johnson has had a long experience in wrestling instruction, being a wrestler of ability, holding the state Y.M.C.A. championship of Vermont and champion of the city middleweight championship. He has been wrestling instructor at Montpelier. Like boxing, wrestling develops alertness of eye and muscle and adds a great deal to the strength of the body. Mr. Johnson will hold his classes on Tuesday evenings beginning the second week in this month. Both the boxing and wrestling classes will be in separate rooms, thus preventing disturbance by other classes. It is hoped to have a wrestling team this winter to take the championship next spring. Mr. American has volunteered to assist coaching the team and everything points to a big year in this line of sport.

It will be interesting to those interested in civil service exams to know that last July several men took their firearms exam in our gym. We have every piece of equipment necessary both for policemen's and fireman's examinations and are continually training for these exams.

The physical department is open from 9 in the morning till 10 in the evening. The public is invited to inspect the department at any time.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

There is no need of taking this depression in the textile business in the nature of a calamity. It is the natural consequence of economic conditions. If anybody was foolish enough to believe that war prices came to stay, the time has arrived to change that opinion.

For some time past textile manufacturers have found difficulty in disposing of their products even at a living profit. This was due to the fact that merchants refused to stock up in the face of a falling market. The public too, rebelled against the high prices. There were charges of profiteering brought against merchants who were merely disposing of their stock at a fair profit.

The peak of high prices has long ago been passed and already some labor organizations have withdrawn their demand for higher wages, because a reduction in the price of commodities has given them relief equal to the increase they had asked.

The effect of the sweeping out in prices announced in certain industries, will force similar cuts in others, and thus the trend will continue back toward what may be called a normal level. It will not reach the pre-war level, but it will be much lower than the present.

The uncertainty is what makes it hazardous for manufacturers to go on piling up goods that may have to be sold at a loss.

Very few except those who are engaged in manufacturing, realize that in many cases a mere reduction of one per cent in the selling price is all the difference between success and failure.

With the shifting of prices and the radical economic influences at present at work, it is to be expected that there will be sweeping cuts in prices and that the manufacturer, therefore, must move very cautiously.

This explains the occasional shut-down and the curtailment schedules announced here and there. But the depression can be but temporary, for the reason that the need for manufactured products exists and the dullness is due to the unwillingness of the merchants to buy in moderate volume, fearing a sudden slump in prices.

The shortage due to the war has not yet been overcome and until it has been, the factories cannot afford to remain idle very long. The manufacturers await a period of greater stability in prices and until it arrives, there will be slight chance of better business.

This is but a part of the inevitable gravitation of business back toward normal conditions. It is not entirely due to the political campaign although, once the election is over, the merchants and manufacturers will know what to expect in the line of tariff reform. As a result there is likely to be an improvement soon after November 2.

In the near future this country will have to face fierce business competition from England, France, Germany and Japan and just what measures we may adopt as best calculated to meet this competition is a question for statesmen to decide.

It is an undoubted fact that a higher tariff will be needed to protect our industries against having the goods of competing nations dumped upon our shores. A local mill agent recently made the statement that he could send the raw material of cotton cloth to Japan and get back the finished fabrics same as produced in his own mill and save 30 per cent on the transaction as compared with the cost of home production.

The domestic market must be protected against such ruinous competition as that and yet there are other forms of competition equally menacing.

These problems call for prompt action by the American government in order to protect our industries and establish a sufficient volume of foreign trade to offer an outlet for our surplus production, as under normal conditions we produce about twice as much as we consume.

England is making rapid strides to outdo the United States in competition in foreign trade fields. Thus far she is handicapped by high prices and a low rate of exchange; but she is recovering from the effects of the war faster than any of her allies and she is even using American capital to defeat us in the markets of the world. Already the British government has taken steps for the deflation of the currency and abstention from currency issues that would retard such a movement. John Bull is a shrewd financier and he has been well entrenched in the foreign marts, when we could offer but a very mild form of competition.

Now we have a merchant marine and the problem awaiting solution is how to use it to proper advantage in foreign trade. Something has been done in this line, but the results are far from satisfactory. This is one of the great questions of reconstruction that is still pressing for intelligent and statesmanlike settlement.

VAGUE RUMORS

It is alleged that the republicans have a charter plan of their own which will be put through the legislature early in the year, perhaps as a modification of the report of the charter commission. We do not believe the republicans would attempt anything so foolish. If they submitted such a charter to the people, it would promptly be defeated. It is stated also that a rearrangement of the wards is contemplated. That may be so, but to effect any such plan on the new charter would be wholly impracticable. If there is no party in local politics, it is difficult to see what advantage would be gained to the republicans by re-districting. Should ward representation be adopted on party lines, the case would be different.

Nobody should be disturbed by such vague rumors.

PATRIOTIC WORK

The National Security League is working steadily to mobilize the patriotism and good citizenship of our people as a constructive force for the preservation of the constitution and American ideals and against the encroachment of organized minorities. This is a program in which all good citizens can heartily unite.

As the National Security League was active during the war in mobilizing the forces of patriotism in support of the government, so now it is lending its aid in an equally effective way in the work of reconstruction and particularly in opposing the radical forces that would strike at the foundation of our government and the very palladium of our liberties.

INFANT MORTALITY

According to the census returns there were 1,365,555 births in the United States exclusive of Rhode Island in 1919, while the total deaths in the registration area numbered 791,732, the births exceeding the deaths by 72.5 per cent. The rate of infant mortality or the number of deaths of infants under one year was 87 for 1919. Among the states the rate of infant mortality calculated on a similar basis ranged from 63 in Oregon and Washington to 118 in South Carolina. The rate for Massachusetts is 83, which is a fair average.

Governor Coolidge has sent a message to the members of the Investment Bankers' association saying: "You are the responsibility to see that the savings of the people are safely and constructively invested." Wouldn't it be a good plan for him to repeat the statement to certain republican state officials who might be mentioned.

England definitely pledged her adherence to the principle of the right of self-determination for small nations when she welcomed us into the Great War. We saved her from defeat. Have we not a right to expect then, that she shall stop making a mockery of the principle for which American soldiers shed their blood on the battlefields of Flanders as she is doing by her treatment of Ireland?

A recklessly driven automobile struck and killed two women in Brooklyn and the driver sped away without stopping to make his identity known. He has been sentenced to from five to ten years in Sing Sing prison. And one newspaper refers to this as "a severe sentence."

Public opinion seems to be swinging round to the view that it would be a good idea to inject a little more democracy into Lowell's city government, and that a good way to do it would be for the charter commission to provide for an elective council of 15 or more members.

The Eastern Massachusetts having made a beginning toward furnishing cheaper transportation, by reducing rates for a time to long-haul travelers, perhaps the men and women whose homes are located in the heart of Lowell may some day hope to come in for consideration.

Representative James V. McGlinch, of Oklahoma, charges that the pilgrimages to Harding's home are being paid for by the republican national committee. Can it be that the people of Oklahoma are so politically child-like and innocent as to ever have thought otherwise?

Now we are having the evenings when domestic life flourishes as the family gathers cozily around the old-fashioned cook-stove in the kitchen, and the girls when he thinks of the coal he is saving with an unlighted furnace.

We can picture Columbus 425 years ago today peering out over the prow of the Santa Maria for a sight of land, with almost as much anxiety as Lowell people are now scanning the horizon for signs of coming lower street-car fares.

Isn't there a chance for some enthusiastic democrat to make himself popular by starting a movement to have a "Coolidge and Roosevelt-Walsh and Coolidge" banner swung to the breeze across Merrimack street?

Mrs. Wichtman, Lowell's oldest woman voter, has her age published in the directory. And some of her sisters have almost had a spasm when asked to tell the election officials how old they are.

It is unfortunate that the Lowell man, who told a superior court judge that he would really like to serve on a jury, is almost a rare enough kind of patriot to deserve a statue on top of the court house.

The street department has discovered that street paving costs between $500 and $750 a square yard. We imagine we can hear some people remark, as they gaze in wonderment at the highway, "What a thank you!"

Now, the perfect days of the year are here. The closing of the winter for a short holiday will give the workers a chance to get out into the country and enjoy them.

The present opposition silence on the living front porch has about the same amount of meaning as a good story of the statements that have emanated therefrom.

Now that Newton is being made happy with a full-size home-building boom, perhaps we can hope that a Lowell family of the same kind will hit Lowell some time.

Now it is the Oakland that has its back up waiting for a new fire station to be voted by the municipal council.

Constitutional indications for Lowell for awhile longer appear to be "Fair."

Cher up, Vox Populi, your turn to be heard at the charter commission hearings is soon to come.

We are all willing to grant a license to the license commissioners to arrive without pay.

"Go three blocks east, sir," politely said the policeman. "Turn to your right, go the length of the block, and the number you wish is just around the corner."

"Thank you!"

"You are entirely welcome, sir."

Trees For Birds

Would you have wrens, flickers, owls or bluebirds, or would you like a few of each in your garden? There is a certain way to get the very birds you want, and that is to make a tree for them. Dr. B. Harry Warren of West Chester, Pa., makes imitation trees to attract birds. He makes them of cement, cork bark and other suitable material, and just as the place where a wren, or a flicker, or a woodpecker, or would look for the desirable location of a nest, a cavity is made ready for the home building birds.—Popular Science Monthly.

Wishing

I wish I were a millionaire, With nothing much to do But eat and sleep and laze around.

And let my wish accrue, I wish I had a limousine, So I could ride on air, And have a uniformed chauffeur, And make the neighbors stare.

I wish I had the time and cash To travel all around, Until the edges of the world Were all familiar ground.

I wish I were the President, With power to end all wars And bring the cost of living down, And sass the Senators.

I wish I had a country place, To go to when it's hot, A villa at the seashore, too, And a splendid yacht.

But here I am—confound the luck— A simple ill-paid clerk, With no more time for wishing now— I've got to go to work!

A Terrible Mistake

Mrs. Watson had recently come to Sea Cliff. Mrs. Brown, one of the leaders of Sea Cliff society, had come to call on her. She had found her sitting on the veranda, surrounded by three small children.

For a while they talked. Then Mrs. Brown, who had always prided herself on her understanding of children, asked the three small ones their names.

"I'm Dorothy Mason Watson," said the first child in answer to the question.

"I'm Madeline Alexandra Watson," said the second.

"I'm Billy Watson," said the third. Mrs. Brown then asked them a few more questions which they politely answered.

As she was leaving she turned to Mrs. Watson and said: "I can't tell you how glad we are to have you at Sea Cliff, and I also want to congratulate you on your three lovely children. They are so lovely and they're the perfect image of you, my dear."

"Are they?" Mrs. Watson answered. "That's strange. For I'm Mr. Watson's second wife, and I've only been married a month!"—Judge.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

There is an exhibition in the main reading room of the public library an excellent series of sketches representing the evolution of the uniform and equipment of the United States soldier from the earliest colonial times to the present day. The series consists of about 40 drawings, done in color, and supplemented by printed explanations and descriptions. It begins with the fighters of the revolutionary period when the country's forces were organized and each little body of men was independent of the others. Gradually, the evolution traces the change in uniform from the rough and ready outfit of the colonials to the comparatively smart uniforms that were worn by the Americans as the Revolution drew to a close. The intervening period before the Civil war is thoroughly covered and the blue of the Union troops in that memorable conflict is also portrayed faithfully. From then on, down through the Spanish-American war to the great world conflict, the military uniforms of each period are depicted. The uniforms of the men who fought in the world war, their insignia, a detailed description of their pack, weapons, and armor, and several views of prominent battles in the great conflict are also shown. The exhibit is most interesting and well worthy of a visit to the library.

Books on Cape Cod are blossoming in existence in this section. One of the latest in a book store the other day. Its title was "Cape Cod and the Old Colony" and the author is a professor of zoology. The book deals with the subject in a way that is new. It gives an idea of the account of the forces of nature that have fashioned the peculiar long sand spit that is sometimes referred to as "The Right arm of the Old Bay State." The formation of the cape was largely influenced by the action of the glaciers. The soil, though, almost wholly pure sand, and a most have been at some time or other cast up by the ocean. There are long stretches of the peninsula where the inhabitants are hard put to it to find a convenient stone to cast at a recalcitrant cow. Here and there, however, are giant boulders. One such, as large as a small house, rests on the shore of the village of Yarmouth. Not another rock of any size is anywhere in sight. No drill has ever been sunk deep enough on the cape to reach the underlying ledge rock. From somewhere far to the north, possibly from some hill along the banks of the Merrimack, or the slopes of the White Mountains, the big stone must have been picked up by a slowly moving glacier and taken to its sandy resting place. "Cape Cod" has furnished a fertile field for the literary worker since the days when Thoreau made his first journey down the peninsula. One of the most literary literary products dealing with the Cape came from the pen of Sally Pratt McLean 39 years ago. She went to the seclusion as a school teacher and wrote a novel entitled "Cape Cod Folks" in which she used the names of living people. She was sued for libel, and her volume was given wide advertising as a consequence.

GOV. COX SEES BIG U. S. SAVING IN LEAGUE

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7.—The League of Nations was the main theme of Governor Cox in his travels today through Kentucky and Tennessee. "I favor going in," he repeated vigorously in a day's campaigning of eight speeches, closing with a large meeting here tonight in the Ryman Auditorium. Saving From League

With vigor restored, apparently, Governor Cox advanced what he termed "practical" as well as moral arguments for American membership in the league. Reiterating that it was a "pledge" to Americans who participated in the war, he declared that its disarmament provisions could save the nation $165,000,000 next year in the navy alone. The league would renew European credit for purchase of American products, he said.

"Next year if we go into the League of Nations," he declared, "we can save $165,000,000 in our navy alone next year. You can do it with $165,000,000. You can receive 3,000,000 acres of arid land in the west. I am in favor of stopping the building of battleships and of reclaiming arid lands and of giving every soldier boy a farm and a home of his own. If he wants to try it out there in that great promising country. If he doesn't want that, then I am in favor of the fourfold plan which was recommended by the American Legion."

He made a further statement on the railroad question. He disagreed with Senator Harding, who he said, apparently approved existing conditions. The democratic candidate declared that railroad matters were in the experimental stage, and that the people should have the right to determine their policies through congress.

Discusses R. R. Question

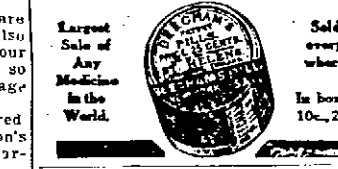

He said: "During the temporary lull in active campaigning I have been giving intensive study to the railroad situation."

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little creamed sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dripping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

"In my study of the railroad problem of the former railroad administration, with members of the Interstate Commerce commission, with managing heads and traffic managers of railroads and with spokesmen for the organized railway employes, I am disposed to disagree totally with the expression of Senator Harding, who in his speech of Sept. 13 seems to lend entire approval to the existing status quo.

"My opinion is that the matter is entirely in an experimental stage. I believe that the people of a democracy have the right to determine their own policies and when these policies are expressed through their representatives in congress, I shall do all in my power to render them effectual. Until this expression is had, however, nothing of a definitely permanent nature can be accomplished."

FLIER DIES FROM INHALING FLAME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Lieut. Com. William Merrill Corry, U.S.N., died yesterday at the Hartford, Conn., hospital from the effects of inhaling flame while attempting to rescue Lieut. Arthur C. Wagner, U.S.N.R., from a burning airplane immediately after a crash at Hartford, Oct. 3.

Lieut. Com. Corry was a passenger in the plane piloted by Lieut. Wagner, returning from an authorized cross-country flight in an airplane attached to the flying field at Mincola. Shortly after the machine took the air on its flight to Mitchell Field, L. I., motor trouble developed. Wagner attempted to turn back to make a landing on the field when the engine went dead and the airplane fell 75 feet to the ground.

Lieut. Com. Corry was thrown clear of the machine, sustaining two broken ribs, but was otherwise uninjured. Wagner, however, was caught in the machine when it burst into flames. Corry received the injuries which cost him his life in rushing to the aid of his companion. Lieut. Wagner was so badly burned that he died soon after

POSED AS MAN; "MARRIED" GIRL!

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Jacqueline Gay, 24 years old, wore men's clothes for a number of years and then met and "married" Winifred McVaugh, 20, and they kept house together as "man and wife" for four years, according to Jacqueline's story to the police. She claims to be an Oklahoma Indian girl and says she took to masculine attire to avoid the perils of the frontier where she worked at a mission. She became a drug user and the police arrested her as a man when they saw her receive a package of drugs. Her story is said to implicate a wealthy leader of the Italian colony who is said to have forfeited bail when she charged him with selling her drugs.

ROMANCE FOLLOWS FALL OF EMPEROR

AMERONGEN, Oct. 7.—A romance of the stay of former Emperor William II. Germany in Holland ended today in the marriage of Captain Sigurd von Hsemann, his adjutant, to Countess Elizabeth Bentinck, daughter of William's best friend at Amerongen. The former emperor and his wife were present at the official ceremony in the town hall, Augusta Victoria here asked blessings on the newly married couple. At the public church ceremony, which the royal exiles did not attend, Minister Barbas said: "Through the fall of an emperor, this couple found each other."

The former kaiser gave the bride a Turkish carpet.

of League Park. Unlike Brooklyn, there are no knolls for those unable to get into the park.
Sell Roof Standing Room
With the high screen along the right field fence, the smug row of houses and stores on Lexington avenue, opposite the park, did not appear to be a favorable vantage point from which to view the games. However, property owners were swamped with offers ranging from $1 to $25 for roof standing room.

An awning company has one of the choicest roofs in the neighborhood. "I haven't had a minute's time for my business," George La Croix, treasurer of the company, said. "Fans have offered me watches, books of trading stamps and almost every sort of thing for a chance to see the game. My partner and myself are taking a tip from Manager Tris Speaker, we won't announce whether we'll sell roof seats until a few minutes before the game is called."

Announce Games From Park

Then there is a two-story frame barn with an imposing roof just back of the bleachers, or east end of the park. Boys have come to love its owner because he lets them climb up there all season to see the games, and this series will be no exception.

Besides those who have offered to pay their way for sky line seats are these who wish to get up there with megaphones so as to announce the game play by play to the crowds in the street.

Clerks of downtown hotels were endeavoring to classify their lists of reservations for tomorrow and Sunday. By using cots all of the hotels are preparing to lodge two to four persons in a room, wherever necessary, but even with these preparations, some of the larger ones are turning away applicants.

Notables to Attend Series

August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati Baseball club, has made hotel reservations for a party of 15. Among others who have made reservations are George Stallings, manager of the Boston Braves, Frank Navin, owner of the Detroit Tigers, and William L. Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs.

Mayor Calvin of Cincinnati, Mayor Kerb of Columbus, Judge Landis of Chicago, and Mrs. J. R. Speaker, of Hubbard City, Tex., mother of Tris Speaker, are among others who will be here.

Reports that scalpers were selling tickets caused renewed precautions to be taken by the police and officials of the Cleveland Club. One man reported being approached by a youth who offered a set of eight tickets, two for each of the four games for $175. The seats were sold by the club for $25.40. Another man was canvassing hotels with similarly priced tickets which he offered to sell in sets of one for the four games for $100. Through plans made by E. S. Barnard, business manager of the local club there can be no "scalping" on the bleacher tickets. Only one will be sold to each person when the gates open tomorrow morning, and the holder must pass immediately into the grounds.
East Liverpool, Ohio, fans have arranged a banquet for October 20, in honor of Harry (H) Myers, Brooklyn outfielder, who is a native of that town, when he will be presented with a gift. An invitation will be extended to Tris Speaker to attend.

MRS. HENRY BECKER

Of Exeter, Nebraska, Glad to Tell What Sister Mary's Compound Did for Her Baby, Says:

"Our baby, now about 22 months old, and a very frail child, took an awful cold and cough last winter and nothing seemed to help her get rid of it. Seeing your advertisement in the Catholic Tribune we thought we would try Sister Mary's Compound. Before baby had taken two-thirds of a bottle her cough quit and she gained in flesh and color and is now a healthy baby. Thanks to Sister Mary's Compound. Our baby also had stomach and bowel trouble very bad, last spring, but since using the Compound she had no trouble at all during the summer and at present is well and lively. There is nothing in my mind, that can equal Sister Mary's Compound for children suffering stomach and bowel trouble and cough. I don't want to be without a bottle of Sister Mary's Compound in the house. I will be glad to tell others what your medicine has done for our little one."

as won. Manager Robinson would not say who would pitch for the Dodgers tomorrow, but the players think Jeff Pfeffer will be the man.
"We will beat Cleveland the next time he starts," said Capt. Zack Wheat.
Wheat says Speaker should have been credited with a home run yesterday instead of a two-base hit.

"I never touched that drive of Speaker's on which the official scorer credited the batter with a two-base hit and gave me an error," said Wheat. "The ball took a nasty hop just as I was about to catch it and I never got a hand on it."

Leon Calore, right hander, who will probably pitch Sunday, said that morning won the pennant for Brooklyn, and that it will win the series.
"We have the will to win, have every confidence in ourselves," he said. "There's a lot of psychology in baseball. The Indians are not going back to Cleveland with the same easy confidence in ultimate victory in this series that Robble's men have today."

"Never mind that psychology stuff," said "Rowdy" Elliott, the Dodgers' catcher. "All we have got to do is to hit the ball on the nose."

DECLARES PEOPLE HAVE BECOME "SLAVES"

TOKIO, Oct. 8.—Comforts and luxuries of life have multiplied so with the increase of wealth and inventions that people have become "slaves," declared the Rev. D. W. Kurtz, D.D., of McPherson, Kan., in an address here today before the World's Sunday School congress. Quoting the Scriptural saying that "Where there is no vision, the people perish," the speaker said that politicians and even educators too often boasted of a nation's wealth, comforts and luxuries and were not aware that the spirit of prophecy and vision had faded.

"The strength of a nation," Dr. Kurtz declared, "does not depend upon its armies or its wealth but upon the physical, moral and spiritual health of its people. Multitudes are slaves to greed and gold or to the passions and appetites of the body. There can be no permanent civilization based on materialism. The world lacks self-control. Our first need is balance. We must put first things first and other things in their proper place. The true way of life is sovereign over nature, the mastery of things and the body."

"Economic democracy is the problem of the hour. No problem is solved until it is solved right. The slavery of the ancient world became the feudal system of the middle age and the industrial system of the present. In each there was injustice and inequality. Ancient Babylon, with its pompous Rome, was built on slavery and these proud nations tell. They disobeyed the law of 'survival,' the law of 'human brotherhood.'"

"The present world crisis is due to fear and hate and selfishness, to the lack of spirit and practice of brotherhood. Enlightened selfishness had its chance and it failed. Materialism had full sway for generations and it resulted in a world catastrophe and left us with myriads of acute national and international problems. Diplomacy has failed, science has failed, industry has failed, force and governments have failed to solve the human problem and create peace and good-will among men."

"There is a best way of living, that best way is God's way; His way was revealed in Christ and Christ is the true way of life. To live right men must relate themselves properly to their fellowmen, which is the spirit of brotherhood, and they must be in harmony with God, which is sonship."

Other speakers before the congress were Rev. William C. Poole, D.D., pastor of Christ church, London, and W. H. Goodwin of Montreal, Que.

NEW DOUBLE-DECKED SUBWAY FOR NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—This city will have a new double-decked subway running most of the length of Manhattan Island if the plans proposed by John H. Delaney, Transit Construction commissioner, to provide for the increase in traffic in the next 25 years are put into effect.

It will be necessary to resort to this double-deck subway construction, in the opinion of the commissioner, because the congested section of Manhattan borough has only 11 north and south arteries to serve more than 100 cross streets.

His plans call for an eight-track, double-deck line on the west side of the city from the Battery to 155th street running under Eighth and Amsterdam avenues. Only four tracks would be constructed at first but these would be so located that another four-track unit could be built under or on top of it.

Mr. Delaney also proposes the building of another north and south subway of four to six tracks under Fifth and Madison avenues, on the east side, and extending from the Battery to the Harlem river. Both these arteries would have connections extending to the boroughs of the Bronx, Brooklyn or Richmond.

The commissioner advocates the construction of 42 new single-track river tunnels. As the present system has 31 such tunnels, this would make a total of 73 tunnels.

He says that passenger traffic on the surface of the main arteries, north and south or cross-town, will soon have to be discontinued because of the great increase of traffic of vehicles and pedestrians; with the result that all passenger traffic on these streets would be forced into subways or on elevated lines.

RETURN VERDICTS FOR PLAINTIFFS

The jury in the case of Mrs. Lena Collins and her husband, Frank Collins, of Moody street, Pawtucketville, against the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway, returned a verdict of $1500 for Mrs. Collins and $500 for Mr. Collins, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Collins sued to recover damages for injuries received as a result of her being thrown along Moody street when a car of the defendant corporation, that she was attempting to board, was suddenly started. Mr. Collins sued for the loss of his wife's services.

FAMOUS FERRIS

WHEEL DOOMED

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The Ferris Wheel, which has attracted much attention among foreign visitors in Paris for the past 20 years, but which according to landscape artists and architects has been a disfiguration of the city, is to be demolished. The work of demolishing the wheel is to be started in a few days. It was built at the time of the Paris Exposition in 1889, is more than 200 feet in diameter and contains several million pounds of steel, which will be used in the reconstruction of the devastated regions.

CARRY YOUR LUNCH

Y.W.C.A. to Encourage the Carry Your Lunch Idea in Lowell—Special Room

With Dining Tables

The carry your lunch campaign, which originated in Boston has, in Lowell, only one real plan of the Y.W.C.A. to encourage and foster the idea in connection with the work of the Y.W.C.A. The members of the Y.W.C.A. have come to realize that it is not only the duty of the Y.W.C.A. to provide a place where the workers can eat their lunch, but also to provide a place where they can get good meals as by eating in restaurants down town. Those young women who carry their lunches to work now will have the opportunity of visiting the Y.W.C.A. where they may get warm drinks and eat amidst pleasant surroundings among friends.

The plan will be run by the industrial department in co-operation with the physical department, which is under the direction of Miss Charlotte Northrup. After eating their lunches the young women will then have the opportunity of spending a few minutes each noon in the gymnasium. Refreshments for the day were made at a meeting of the industrial committee held in the association building, Miss Evelyn H. Roy of the industrial department will be prominently connected with the management of this bring-your-lunch campaign, and also will be in charge of the rooms provided for the purpose.

A meeting of the Yuda club, which is under the industrial department be held in the association to which all was held recently and plans for the coming season were made. In the absence of the President, Miss Gladys H. Roy, Miss Evelyn H. Roy, provided the program for the fall and winter of the Y.W.C.A. club include activities in the dramatic department, basketball, bowling. The annual election of officers will be held in about two weeks. Christmas work, from next Tuesday the first open party at the association under the auspices of the club will begin.

TOTAL POPULATION OF
U. S. IS 105,683,108

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The total population of continental United States is 105,683,108, an increase of 13,710,512, or 14.9 per cent.

This figure does not include approximately 12,250,000 people living in the country's outlying possessions. The population of Alaska and the total of the military and naval service abroad are yet to be announced.

Director Rogers of the census bureau in making the announcement of the country's population said that while the figures were preliminary and subject to correction, the final official population as transmitted to congress in December, for apportionment purposes, was not likely to be greatly different, although it might be slightly larger through the addition of population for small sections of territory claimed not to have been properly canvassed by the census enumerators in January and which are now being investigated.

"The population of the United States, as announced today," said Mr. Rogers, "is 105,683,108, as compared with a total in 1910 of 91,972,596 and in 1900 of 76,095,571. This is an increase since 1910 of 13,710,512 or 14.9 per cent, as compared with an increase from 1900 to 1910 of 15,977,021 or 21 per cent.

"The largest falling off in the rate of growth for the country as a whole, as shown by these figures is due mainly to an almost complete cessation of immigration for more than five years preceding the taking of the census in January last and in some degree also to an epidemic of influenza and to the casualties resulting from the world war.

"The excess of immigration over emigration during the decade was approximately 3,733,000. Since the bulk of these foreign born persons came to the country during the first four years of the decade it may be roughly estimated that the increase due to excess of births over deaths in their families was about 10 per cent.

"The figures of the present census also show that the trend of population from the country to the city has become greatly accentuated since 1910 and that for the first time in the country's history, more than half the entire population is now living in urban territory as defined by the census bureau."

With the outlying possessions, the United States in 1910 had a population of 101,113,457. These possessions included Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands, the Panama Canal Zone, Guam and Samoa, and the total of persons in the military and naval service abroad was added. This year the population of the Virgin Islands of the United States, acquired from Denmark, is included.

The growth of the country's population, exclusive of the outlying possessions, is set forth briefly in the following table:

Year	Population	Increase	P.C.
1920	105,683,108	13,710,512	14.9
1910	91,972,596	15,977,021	21.9
1900	76,095,571	13,046,561	20.7
1890	62,912,711	12,791,581	23.5
1880	50,155,783	11,597,412	30.1
1870	38,558,371	7,115,059	22.6
1860	24,442,321	8,261,445	33.8
1850	19,191,876	6,122,123	35.9
1840	17,064,433	1,202,433	32.7
1830	12,856,020	3,257,567	33.5
1820	9,585,453	2,325,572	32.1
1810	7,261,851	1,931,335	35.1
1800	5,329,153	1,373,203	35.1
1790	3,925,214

With the announcement today of the country's total population, the bureau of the census, under Director Sam L. Rogers, has accomplished only a portion of its tremendous task, which will continue to occupy a large force of statisticians and clerks for the better part of a number of years. But the primary object, for which the father of the country provided in the constitution that a counting of the people should be made every 10 years has been achieved. That object was to obtain the total population in order that apportionment of the members of the house of representatives may be made by congress.

That apportionment, as soon as Director Rogers certifies to congress the exact number of people in each state, will be taken up by the house of representatives at its coming session and during the coming year the body will by law fix the number of congressmen from each state. There has been discussion as to whether the membership of the house of representatives, now fixed at 435, should not be reduced, as that number is considered by some parliamentarians as too large and unwieldy a body. People of some states are fearful that their representation in the house might be cut down and oppose any reduction.

In 1790 the number of representatives was fixed at 65, each representing approximately 30,000 people. The number has increased with each decade, based on census returns, until each of the present 435 members of the house represents approximately 241,587. The actual ratio of representatives varies from 60,201 in Nevada to 228,027 in Washington, Nevada, Delaware, Wyoming and Arizona, whose populations were less than the number which would entitle them to one representative by apportionment, were each given one under constitutional provision that each state shall have at least one representative in the house.

Some changes have occurred in the rank of the states and the District of Columbia during the 10 years. Connecticut has outgrown Washington, Utah has gone ahead of New Hampshire, Oregon has passed Maine. The District of Columbia, included in the ranking of the states by the census bureau, has outgrown Vermont.

MANY CASES OF MEASLES REPORTED HERE

Unless parents of children suspected of suffering from measles call a doctor at once, it is very possible that the children will develop pneumonia from the disease at this season if the year, according to Agent Francis J. O'Hare of the board of health.

The local health office is receiving more measles reports than in strict accord with the best health standards of a community and fears that more serious diseases will develop unless the more common disease is effectively checked. Twenty-four cases have been reported this week and 17 last week. Measles is the most infectious of all common diseases. The first symptoms are those of an ordinary cold in the head—sneezing, coughing, a running nose and red eyes. A fever comes within a few hours of the beginning of the disease. These symptoms last for four or five days and then a rash breaks out over the body.

The best cure is isolation and the calling of a doctor as soon as the symptoms are noted. If neglected, especially at this season of the year, the disease is likely to develop into pneumonia, kidney disease or running ears. This is especially true in the case of poorly nourished children.

CHILD DIES AFTER BEING X-RAYED

Alcide Theriault, aged 1 year, 5 months and 1 day, died in an automobile yesterday afternoon while on his way from the hospital to the home of his parents, Eulie and Antonia Theriault, 288 Fletcher street. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertakers Amodeo Archambault & Sons and subsequently to the home of the parents.

The child had been ill for some time, but the attending physician was unable to diagnose the case. Yesterday, on his suggestion, the child was taken to the hospital, where an X-ray picture was taken. After leaving the hospital and while on the way back home in an automobile the child died. The death certificate was signed "broncho pneumonia."

HIKE TO ROBIN HILL

Members of the Local Y.W.C.A. are invited to take part in Delightful Outing Planned for Tuesday.

All members of the local Y.W.C.A., including members of the extension classes, the girls of the high school organization or other girls connected with the Y.W.C.A. in any way, are invited to take part in a hike to Robin Hill next Tuesday.

All those intending to participate should communicate with the office of the association before Monday night. The start will be made Tuesday about noon time and the first leg of the journey will be made to Chelmsford Centre in the cars, from which point a hike to the top of Robin Hill will be staged. Those who will have charge of the affair promise a very good time to all those who go, both in sightseeing from the top of the hill and in "roughing it" on the hike.

Plans are now underway for a Halloween party to be held at the Y.W.C.A. camp Eureka, in Tengerboro, on the evening of Oct. 29. Miss Northrup, physical director of the association, will have charge and she promises a "ripping" good time for the participants.

Trucks will leave John street at 6:30 o'clock and the return will be made only when all have agreed that they have had their good time. At the camp a large campfire will be built, eats will be provided and besides that, all kinds of sports will be enjoyed, including those Halloween stunts which make one shiver with fright. All those intending to go on the trip should enter their names with Miss Northrup by Wednesday, Oct. 27.

Since 1899 the United States has produced more than 7,700,000 automobiles.

ORDERS R. R. TO FILE PLAN OF DISSOLUTION

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—The federal court here today handed a decree ordering the Reading Co. to file within 90 days a plan of dissolution of the combination of the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Co., the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co., the Central railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal Co., in accordance with the decision of the United States supreme court rendered last spring.

The court granted the Reading Co. the right to secure proxies from stockholders for the purpose of voting them on Oct. 11, in the election of new directors for the various companies. Under the decision handed down last spring, the Reading Co. was restrained from exercising such rights.

There have been many rumors as to what form the plan for separating the several companies into independent entities will take, but nothing official has come from the Reading Co.

Reports of million-cutting among Reading stockholders when dissolution takes place were neither confirmed nor denied.

BIDS FOR ONLY 4
WOODEN STEAMERS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Bids for only four of the 505 wooden steamers offered for sale by the shipping board, had been received when the tenders were opened today. The total amount offered was $116,500, or considerably less than the cost to the government of the construction of anyone of the craft.

The offers were taken under consideration.

This is the third attempt by the board in recent months to dispose of its fleet of wooden vessels. There were no responses to the two previous calls for bids.

CUT TO BE USED ON ENVELOPES

The committee on community advertising of the chamber of commerce has accepted the cut designed by Walter J. Flynn of the art department of all its stationery from now on. Mr. Flynn submitted his design in competition with several others and the committee has adjudged his most useful.

The chamber is also making an attempt to have all its members use the cut on their envelopes as it is believed that it will be good advertising for the city.

Mr. Flynn has also recently completed a very artistic design for the cover of a pamphlet published by the C. H. Coburn Co., giving the commercial history of shoelace and a minute description of its production.

In the opinion of expert authorities, Canada would increase its production of zinc to supply one-tenth of the world's demand.

From Japan a forage plant, called guava, is being imported to feed American stock.

TO FORCE COLBY TO ACT

Attorney Seeks to Compel
Promulgation of Joint
Peace Resolution

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Harry S. McCarthey, a Chicago attorney, carried to the supreme court today his efforts to compel Secretary Colby to promulgate the joint peace resolution passed by congress last May and vetoed by the president.

Declaring that "vital public interests required the early as possible consideration of the question involved," Mr. McCarthey filed a petition for a writ of certiorari, asking that the case be taken from the District of Columbia court of appeals, where it is pending.

The case reached the court of appeals from the district supreme court which last July dismissed McCarthey's petition for mandamus to compel Secretary Colby to promulgate the resolution.

TEACHERS TO CENSOR
DRESS OF PUPILS

MANCHESTER, N. H., Oct. 8.—The rules committee of the Manchester school board is considering an addition to the rules which will require principals and teachers to censor the dress and deportment of pupils attending social functions held in the school buildings.

This will prevent the use of rouge and the wearing of short skirts and low necks when these are beyond the limit of modesty in the opinion of teachers.

The matter has been brought before the club women of the city and they are practically unanimous in their approval of the rule.

NO POWERS TO SEIZE AUTOS

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 8.—Suspicion that an automobile or other vehicle may contain contraband liquor or dutiable commodities does not give customs officers authority to confiscate it, according to a decision by Federal Judge Clarence Hale today. He ordered that an automobile seized by Customs Office Marshal A. Whitten be returned to its owner, Andrew G. Lipset of Bangor.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Percy McMaster and Miss Harriet Smethurst were married Oct. 6 at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. George Smethurst, 44 D street, by Rev. Arthur Smith, pastor of the Highland Congregational church. The bridesmaid was Miss Jane E. Smethurst while the best man was Mr. Roy B. Kenyon of Woonsocket. R. I. Miss Madeleine M. Feindel acted as flower girl.

TRAFFIC OFFICERS

The inauguration of the new system whereby traffic officers of the local department are required to work each Sunday, thus giving them one day off in eight instead of one day off in seven as previously, is creating considerable adverse comment among the officers affected. It is their opinion that they have to work much harder than the regular patrolmen and that they have to stand at their posts on duty to all kinds of weather. On this alone, they claim their right to have one day off in seven. A number of the officers look at the situation in a different light, however, saying that when the local traffic squad was first organized, the members had to work each Sunday.

WANT TO BE CHAUFFERS

Inspector Hardy of the state department of public works, division of automobile registration, examined 19 men applicants for chauffeurs' licenses at the Community club in Dutton street this morning. Twenty more applicants were examined this afternoon, making a total of 39. Twenty-three had signed up for examination this morning, but four failed to appear.

WEEK-END TRIPS TO
NASHUA DISCONTINUED

The Eastern Massachusetts street railway will discontinue for the season its Saturday and Sunday trips to Nashua. The weekly schedule has been maintained to the November 1st, but the company have taken a passenger count and the riding has been so light as to cause the discontinuance of service. Cars to Greig's corner will, however, run as usual on an hourly schedule.

O'NEILL AND WHEAT
LEADING BATTERS

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The team batting average of the three hitting Clevelanders in the World's Series, O'Neill, Wheat and Smith, has been maintained to the November 1st, but the company have taken a passenger count and the riding has been so light as to cause the discontinuance of service. Cars to Greig's corner will, however, run as usual on an hourly schedule.

O'Neill of the Indians stands out as the series star this far with five hits in 10 times at bat, including two doubles. He is followed closely by Wheat of Brooklyn, who batted out three singles and two doubles in 11 times up. The Brooklyn outfield has out-hit the Cleveland outfield, 11 hits to five.

YALE PRESIDENTS PLAY TOMORROW
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 8.—Yale's freshman football squad will play its first game this season against the Bulldogs at Lakeville tomorrow. Other scheduled dates are: Oct. 16, Exeter in New Haven; 23, at Andover; 30, at Princeton; Nov. 6, at New Haven; 13, Harvard at Cambridge.

GIRLS' GYMNASIUM CLASS

The first session of the gymnastics class of the Girls' community service club was held yesterday afternoon in the club rooms in the Junior building with 50 girls, pupils of the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades, registered. With this initial registration the directors of the club and Miss Bawla Lawler who will have charge of the instruction are certain that their idea will meet with success. Two classes were formed yesterday, one for seniors, including pupils of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades to meet Monday afternoons at 4.15 o'clock and the other for juniors, comprised of pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, to meet on Thursday afternoons at the same time. The first sessions of the class at which instruction will be given will start next week.

THREE YUKON RIVER
BOATS FROZEN IN

JUNEAU, Oct. 8.—Three Yukon river boats, the last of the season, from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Dawson, Y. T., carrying capacity lists of passengers, Alaska, according to advices received here today. The passenger steamer Seattle II is frozen in at Humpart and the steamers Kestral and Washburn are somewhere between Eagle and Circle. Ice conditions are said to be worse than last year.

GOV. COOLIDGE
AT BROCKTON FAIR

BROCKTON, Oct. 8.—Governor Coolidge was the guest of the Brockton Agricultural society at its annual fair today. Accompanied by state officers, foreign consuls, officers of the national guard, regular army and navy and by political leaders he arrived from Boston by special train this forenoon and was escorted to the Commercial club, where luncheon was served. The program at the fair grounds this afternoon included a parade of the military and a review by the governor.

Governor Coolidge will return to Boston late today.

To stop street cars at railroad crossings or drawbridges should a motorist ignore a signal, an inventor has designed a spring bumper to be raised level with their front sills.

The three other Boston Sunday newspapers, the Sunday Globe, the Sunday Herald and the Sunday Advertiser, all publicly announced that their retail price will be advanced everywhere in city and country to ten (10) cents per copy, beginning next Sunday, Oct. 10, 1920.

The Boston Post has no disposition to criticize its esteemed contemporaries for taking this step. But, for itself, it does not feel justified in taking such action at the present time. There will be no change in the retail price of the Boston Sunday Post, which remains at six (6) cents per copy in Boston and vicinity and seven (7) cents per copy in the country.

It is true that there have been very large increases in the cost of producing newspapers. Prices of newspapers have already been advanced considerably to meet these conditions. The Post management does not deem a further advance necessary at the present time.

The Post does not like to contribute to increasing the High Cost of Living to its multitude of readers. It believes that at present the tendency is in the other direction. The recent big reduction in the price of various motor cars, silks, wheat, cottons, woollens, sugar and many other commodities indicates the trend of the times. It is very important for the welfare of people generally to get back to a more moderate basis of prices. If necessary, the Post is prepared to operate at a loss for a while rather than to increase the burdens on the public.

From a circulation point of view a ten-cent price for a Sunday newspaper naturally and almost invariably involves loss of readers. This means that the newspaper's influence is restricted, and that there is a decreased response to advertising in its columns. It is distinctly to the disadvantage of the advertisers to have Sunday newspapers advanced to ten cents per copy. It would be much more to their advantage to pay a little more, if necessary, for increased circulation and increased productiveness of their announcements.

The Boston Sunday Post has always allowed a liberal margin of profit to the newsdealers and newsboys, who distribute it to the public. Beginning next Sunday, Oct. 10, it will somewhat increase this margin, and at the same time it will allow a maximum of five per cent returns of unsold copies, thus dividing in an equitable manner the inevitable loss in the fluctuation of newspaper sales, due to news and weather conditions. The Post appreciates the difficulties which newsdealers and newsboys, as everybody else in business, have had to meet of late. It will treat them as liberally as possible and in return asks that they maintain in good faith the established price of the Sunday Post. Their increase of sales will afford them more profit than if they should try to secure an undue profit on the sale of fewer copies.

The Post urges its readers not to pay over the established prices of the Daily and Sunday Posts—i. e., two cents per copy for the daily edition and six cents per copy for the Sunday edition in Boston and vicinity and seven cents per copy for the Sunday edition in the country—unless in exceptional cases the delivery is unusually difficult and expensive. In cases of unjustifiable overcharges Post readers are requested to notify Mr. E. J. McGuire, Circulation Manager of the Post, who will endeavor to rectify the matter.

THE BOSTON POST.

REMEMBER

No Increase in the Prices of the Boston Sunday Post

They remain at six (6) cents in Boston and vicinity and seven (7) cents in the country.

IN THE POLICE COURT

Defendant Fined $100 for Illegal Sale of Liquor—
Other Cases

Police court circles were very quiet this morning, the main case in the regular session being one of illegal sale of liquor for which the defendant was fined $100. Juvenile cases called before Judge Enright in the court of second sessions, included a charge of assault upon and robbery from Willis Bean against John I. Maroney, Martin Quealy and Norman Welch. The court found probable cause to find them guilty and ordered the three to recognize in the sum of $1000 for trial before superior court. Three other juveniles were found guilty of unlawfully riding upon a freight car and ordered to pay fines of $20 each.

Liquor Cases

George J. Kearns, proprietor of a near-by establishment on Adams st., appealed the order to pay a fine of $100 for illegal sale of intoxicating liquor on Sept. 18, and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $300.

Officers William Conway, P. B. Clark and Michael Winn appeared in the case. Officer Conway testified that on the evening of September 15 about 8:30 o'clock he entered Kearns' store and purchased a drink of "stout" from the clerk, and that when the proprietor came to the bar later he purchased a second bottle of "stout" from him. He then asked the clerk for a pint of his pocket and sold it to him for $1. The clerk was then arrested and was fined for illegal sale in police court on last Tuesday. Since that time the police summoned Kearns, the proprietor, for illegal sale in connection with the same purchase of a pint by Officer Conway. The allegation of the officers is that when the clerk received a five dollar bill for the pint of whiskey, he turned it over to Kearns, who put it in his pocket and returned $1 in change. Kearns denied that he made change, or that he sold "stout" to Officer Conway.

James Kawrakos pleaded guilty to illegal sale of liquor and was fined $50. This case was called on an old complaint made last July, but which was dismissed by the local court because of the fact that at that time it was not certain that state officers would prosecute. Since the announcement by Judge Enright that he would "clean-up" all liquor violators, the complaint was re-issued by Superintendent Welch.

Charles Sharkey found guilty of drunkenness and also of creating a disturbance in a down-town dance hall, was fined $5.

John Burke and Joseph Myers charged with unlawfully playing dice on the state highway in Tyngsboro were each fined $5. Constable Holt of that town was the prosecuting officer.

George Aldjian, called on an old complaint charging violation of the automobile laws, was fined $25.

Political Gains by New Census

house as they regard the present membership of 435 as unwieldy. When the house census committee, headed by Representative Siegel of New York, begins consideration of the problem effort will be made to hold down the increase but pressure for the increase is expected to come from the states which would benefit from a larger house.

Only once in 1840—has the size of the house been reduced. One other time, just before the Civil war, the apportionment was held down, with the resulting loss of seats falling most heavily on the southern states. By holding the house membership to 435 gains would be distributed with three to California, two to Michigan and Ohio, and one each to Connecticut, New Jersey, No. Carolina, Oklahoma, Texas and Washington. To offset these gains, Missouri would be forced to lose two congressmen, while Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, Nebraska, Rhode Island, Vermont and Virginia would lose one each. All other states would retain their present numerical delegations.

At the last session of congress, some republican leaders expressed opposition to a change in the house that would be of profit to the south. However, the new census does not indicate that the south can be affected without a corresponding effect on states where the republicans might not be inclined to reduce the delegations.

By fixing the apportionment basis so that Maine and Missouri would each lose one seat, the increased population of the country as represented in congress can be absorbed by a net increase of 27 seats. The apportionment basis would 219,353 or a major fraction and 17 states would absorb the net increase as also the two seats lost by Maine and Missouri. These gains would be distributed with California getting four; Michigan, one and New York three; Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Texas two, and Arkansas, Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Massachusetts, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Washington and Wisconsin one each.

By eliminating Wisconsin from the states gaining one seat and by adding Iowa to those losing one, the apportionment basis might be placed at 230,025 or a major fraction, and this would give a net increase of 23 in the membership.

It may be decided to hold the net increase to less than a score, which might be accomplished by causing Missouri to lose two seats, and Iowa, Kentucky, Maine and Indiana, one each. The apportionment basis would be 231,477 inhabitants to the congressional district with a net increase of 14 in the size of the house. These seats and those lost by Missouri, Iowa, Kentucky,

Maine and Indiana would be distributed as follows:

California, four; Michigan and Ohio, three; Texas, two, and Connecticut, Illinois, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Washington, one each.

Regardless of the apportionment basis, the swing in political power will be first toward the Pacific coast and the Rocky mountain states, followed by the south, the east and the middle west.

While the census showed for the first time in the history of the country that the farm-to-city movement of population has resulted in the last ten years in the cities gaining the majority of population, the increase of strictly city members in congress probably would not be great. Confined strictly to the city boundaries, only four of the big centers of population—New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit—seem entitled to more members in the house than at present. The problem of individual districts, however, is not one with which congress concerns itself. The congressional apportionment is made by states and when completed, the fight over the district boundaries within a state is shifted to the legislature. There, it is expected, will come the controversy between the city and the rural districts for control of house seats.
